

NEW RECORDS IN HIGH COST OF DELEGATES

BY GILSON GARDNER

NIEA. Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, June 8.—New records in the high cost of delegates have been set by the 1920 G. O. P. convention. The buying has also become more expensive. Popular sentiment toward the practice is evidently more cynical.

Never was so much money spent on a pre-convention campaign. Election results have run into the millions. The first campaign run by Mark Hanna, the McKinley-Bryan free silver campaign of 1896, cost about four millions. That was regarded as an "array of political corruption." The campaign run by George B. Cortelyou for Roosevelt in 1894 cost less than two million dollars. No pre-convention campaign ever before touched the million dollar mark. Such campaigns cost something. They have to be "financed." Halls have to be hired, railroad fare and the hotel expenses of speakers and organizers paid, advertising, printing, and such expenses have to be met. But these things have, in the past, been met in part by local organizations, and never have been large.

Delegates Cost $2,000,000
The purchase of Missouri votes by Lowden at $2,500 does not indicate the real market price of votes. On the basis of $400,000 spent by the Lowden managers (see testimony before senate committee) and the claim of 80 votes pledged, his votes cost about $5,000 apiece.
The Wood votes have cost more.

Conservatively figured they have cost about $1,500 apiece—the 155 pledged. The Johnson people admit spending (including California), $200,000. They claim 115 pledged delegates, which would make the cost of each delegate about $1,750. This, the Johnson managers would claim, has been spent on primaries, not on vote buying, or the purchase of local political bosses "who can deliver their delegations."

If 350 "pledged" delegates cost $2,400,000, or $6,850 apiece, how much would a majority of the convention's delegates cost? Answer, about $4,500,000. And, if the convention were unanimous? About nine million dollars!

All Are Bored at Miram
Practically what will be the effect of the exposure of the "saturnalia of pre-convention corruption?"

First, of course, it makes the big bosses tired to have it turned out officially by a senate committee and they are inclined to blame Johnson for "instigating" Borah to this "unfriendly" act.

Second, it dampens the enthusiasm—the popular noise-making enthusiasm—for the Wood and Lowden candidates.

Third, it suggests difficulties at the elections if one of the "buying" candidates is named.

Fourth, it increases the prospect that the "big five" will sit behind closed doors and rule out the present favorites and decree that only a "dark horse"—like Charles E. Hughes—can wipe the slate clean and start the race free of the handicaps of scandal and bitterness.

SEAT ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE SOLD FOR $200,000 TODAY
NEW YORK, June 8.—A seat on the New York cotton exchange was sold today for $200,000, a decrease of $2500 from the last sale.

MORE AUTOMOBILISTS IN MISSIONARY SOCIETY POLICE COURT HOLDS MEETING

Leslie M. Sutton, Frank Burke, Emil Demers, Roger K. Eastman, Anthony Vactor and Oscar Calawa were arraigned in police court today, charged with failing to show up their autos at a cross street and to give the necessary signal. One was arrested at Smith and Westford streets and the other five on East Merrimack street. All six pleaded nolo. To avoid the necessity of making a criminal record against the men, the judge gave them a warning and put the cases on file. In the future he said that the offenders must take the consequences.

Anthony Spiney was charged with driving his team in the wrong direction on a one-way street on May 20. His case was put on file.

Joseph H. Conlon, charged with the larceny of a check to the value of $12 from the person of Arthur J. Connolly, was found not guilty.

RECESS APPOINTMENTS BY PRES. WILSON

WASHINGTON, June 8.—President Wilson today made recess appointments of Henry Jones Ford of New Jersey; Mark W. Potter of New York; and James Duncan of Quincy, Mass., to be members of the Interstate commerce commission.

Marston Taylor Bogert of New York and Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts were named members of the United States tariff commission.

Nicholas Kelley of New York was appointed assistant secretary of the treasury.

COMMUNITY CLUB

Exhibition of Girls' Work in Domestic Science Classes

An exhibition of work accomplished by the girls of the Community club in their domestic science classes since last October will be formally opened in the club rooms in the Runels building tomorrow evening by Hugh J. Molloy, president of Lowell Community Service, Inc.

On display will be many articles made in the dressmaking, millinery and embroidery classes and as the work is uncommonly good it is believed the general public will be interested enough to attend. In addition to the opening tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, the exhibition also will be open to the public on Friday afternoon and evening.

The class instructors are: Dressmaking, Miss Eleanor Kilvin; millinery, Miss Mary Kelley; embroidery, Miss Madelyn Hartigan.

Summer Camp Open

The first group of club girls will go to the new summer camp at Riverhurst, Billerica, over the coming week-end. In charge of Miss Bailey, assistant recreational director. Reservations for July 4 already are nearly filled, although one or two more can be accommodated if application is made at once.

O'CONNELL TO RETURN TO HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, June 8.—The re-election of Captain Dennis O'Connell of the Harvard university track team was indicated today with his announcement that he would return to college next year. He is now a junior, but with credit for war service could have received his degree this year. O'Connell was a crack mile runner until he sprained an ankle several months ago. The choice of a new supervisor of track athletics to succeed Dr. Charles R. Whelan, whose resignation was announced yesterday, will rest largely with the new captain.

WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—Next year's tournament for the women's eastern golf championship which will be played at Boston will be a 54 hole medal play event instead of 36 holes. This was decided by the association at a meeting here last night following the winning of the 1920 title by Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, of this city.

The tournament will continue three days and it was announced that Miss Fanny Osgood of Boston has offered a shield for inter-city competition as an added attraction. It will go to the city or state team having the lowest gross total, six cards in count.

Mrs. M. D. Patterson of New York was elected president of the association; Miss E. W. Allen of Boston vice-president; Mrs. C. F. Hawley, Boston, secretary; and Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, of Philadelphia, treasurer.

OPPOSE ACTION ON IRISH QUESTION

WORCESTER, June 8.—The grand commandery of Knights of Malta, for Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut in convention here yesterday, adopted a resolution protesting against the republican national convention "interfering in their platform with the domestic affairs of Great Britain, especially with the Irish claims for independence, because to do so would disturb the friendly relations created by our common sacrifices in the late world war and would be a crime against civilization."

A copy of the resolution was wired to Senator Lodge.

COUSENS HEAD OF TUFTS COLLEGE

MEDFORD, June 8.—The appointment of Acting President John E. Cousens of Tufts college, as permanent president of the institution, was announced by the board of trustees today. Mr. Cousens was vice-president of a Boston real company before he became temporary president, succeeds Dr. Herman Carey Rumpus, who resigned last year. The new president was a graduate from Tufts in 1895.

THE LOWELL FISH AND GAME CLUB

The executive committee of the Lowell Fish and Game association held a well attended meeting Monday evening. A number of new members were accepted and it was voted that the association purchase thirty pheasants from the funds now in the treasury for the re-stocking of local cover. It is expected that the Massachusetts department of fisheries and game will ship to Lowell in August about as many more for this purpose.

In regard to the matter of the executive board arranging a trip to the game farms and hatcheries of the state on invitation of Director William C. Adams, the board spent much time and consideration and it was finally voted that the matter be postponed for the time at least. In arriving at this conclusion the annual outing figured to some extent as it is now expected that the outing this year will be the largest and best in the history of the association. The distance to the hatcheries and game farms of the state was another matter that was considered. The problem of getting autos enough to handle the large number of members that would like to make the trip was discussed, and it was deemed wise to postpone the proposition for the present.

The board felt that members of the association can make up parties from time to time and visit these places of interest to sportsmen. They will learn much of interest concerning birds and fish. The annual outing of the association will be held in September, the day and place to be announced later by the executive board, the members of which were elected a committee to make all arrangements.

The number of members to be provided for has much to do with the selection of a place and just now the gues are being paid in and the board will soon decide just what the membership number is.

The hatcheries and game farms included in Director Adams' invitation to visit are as follows: Sandwich hatcheries, Sandwich; Palmer hatchery, Palmer; Sutton Fish hatchery, Sutton; Montague Rearing station, Montague; Amherst Rearing station, just over the line in the town of Sunderland; Marshfield Bird farm, Marshfield; Wilbraham Game farm, North Wilbraham; Sandwich Bird farm, East Sandwich.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Two Kite Observation Balloons Destroyed

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, June 8.—Lightning struck two kite observation balloons operating with the Atlantic fleet off the Chesapeake Capes tonight. Both the balloons were destroyed, but they were not manned at the time.

Motorcycling Troubles

They are usually mechanical. Mechanical troubles are frequently caused by incorrect lubrication. Give your motorcycle the lubricant it demands and your mechanical troubles will diminish.

Gargoyle Mobiloils as specified by the Vacuum Oil Company's Chart of Recommendations are especially suitable for motorcycles. We have the Chart. Let us supply you a gallon can of the correct grade.

POLES SMASH ON IN COUNTER OFFENSIVE

WARSAW, June 8.—The Polish counter offensive against the Bolsheviks between the Dvina and Upper-Berzina under General Pilsudski, president of the republic, is developing favorably according to a statement issued by the general staff today. The Poles have annihilated the third and 12th Bolshevik divisions and have occupied Czernica and Pilsna, 25 miles southwest of Dvina, with heavy losses to the Bolsheviks.

Coach Split to Pieces

When, who were killed, was severely injured as was also another young daughter.

The express, a Michigan Central special, with 10 cars carrying express matter, disregarded signals and went at high speed into the New York Central passenger train bound from Buffalo to New York, according to the story of C. Robinson, brakeman of the passenger train. He said he waved a red lantern in vain and finally threw it into the cab as the express dashed by.

The Pullman at the rear of the train had 13 passengers and was demolished. Its passengers were bound for New York. Next to it was a Pullman with 22 passengers destined for Boston. The other cars of the passenger train were day coaches and baggage and mail cars.

Flagman Makes Statement

The rear car of the passenger train was split to pieces by the impact. The train had stopped in an open field between Glenville and Scotia, near here, because of a defective water pipe in the engine. C. Robinson, flagman on the train, told the Associated Press the following version of the accident:

"I went back 30 car lengths and saw No. 34 coming toward me, and I stayed in the middle of the track as long as I dared. She kept coming and did not blow her whistle. I waved my red lantern and threw the red fuse into the cab as it whizzed by, but I didn't see the engineer do anything. I didn't see the smash and didn't hear it because the wind was blowing from me toward the wreck. The train was making speed when she passed me. I wasn't asleep when our train stopped, because I was on the watch. We were lying here about three or four minutes because of a pipe blow out in the engine."

Fireman Leaped from Cab

Just before the crash came the fireman on No. 34 leaped from his cab and escaped serious injury, but Doyle, the engineer, was pinned under the wreckage and was in a dying condition when he was extricated. Rescuers said his hand had to be pried from his throat. He died as he was being placed on a stretcher.

Twelve persons were asleep in the rear Pullman which was completely split by the on-rushing engine and 22 were sleeping in the second Pullman. None of the passengers in the day coach, just ahead, was killed and few of them are said to be seriously injured.

Springfield Girl Injured

SPRINGFIELD, June 9.—Miss Eunice Clark, among the injured in the New York Central wreck at Schenectady, is the daughter of Seth H. Clark of this city, assistant superintendent of the Boston & Albany railroad. She is a student at Syracuse university, and was on her way to this city.

The Frank Watson listed as injured is professor of biology at Hobart college, Geneva, N. Y. He was on his way home for a vacation.

To Fight White Plague

stead of individual anti-tuberculosis councils in innumerable cities and towns, the officials of the league believe that much more effective work can be accomplished than is now the case. Four counties have already been organized, two more are about to begin work and three counties, Middlesex, Essex and Worcester are so large that they will be divided into two parts.

It is planned to make Lowell the center of the work in northern Middlesex county and other Waltham or Cambridge the center of the southern end of the county.

During the next few days Mr. Edwards will visit the various towns making up the northern half of the county, and if he finds sentiment among the health authorities and organizations agreeable, a general meeting will be called at which an organization will be effected. At that meeting it will be determined whether the funds the people of Lowell and surrounding towns contributed last winter for Christmas gifts shall be pooled to carry on the work of the entire, upper half of the county or whether each community shall maintain its own finances.

The Massachusetts Tuberculosis

league will furnish publicity for the campaign if the organization is effected, will have nurses to search out incident cases and in co-operation with the state department of health will establish clinical areas where examinations may be made.

Mr. Edwards has found ready co-operation in Lowell on the part of the various health organizations and if the same is true in the surrounding towns, very potent machinery will be set in motion to fight the white plague.

2 KILLED AND 30 INJURED IN SEVERE WIND STORM

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 9.—At least two persons were killed, 30 or more injured and heavy property damage resulted from a severe wind and electrical storm which swept northern Minnesota and parts of eastern North Dakota last night.

PAPERS PASSED IN BASCOM BLOCK SALE

The final papers in the transfer of the Bascom block in Merrimack street from Mrs. Laura E. Richardson to Miss Rose G. Caffee, have been signed. This transaction includes property assessed for over $15,000.

The Bascom block is a four-story brick structure at 190-192 Merrimack street with two stores on the street floor, offices on the second and rooms on the third and fourth. The building is assessed for $21,000, while the land, the area of which is 3600 sq. ft., is taxed for $55,030, making a total valuation of $76,030.

RESIGNATION OF ITALIAN CABINET

ROME, June 9.—Premier Nitti announced in the chamber of deputies today that the cabinet had resigned.

A Rome despatch of June 2, quoted the Giornale d'Italia as saying that confirmation had been received of a wish on the part of former Premier Orlando to abandon his position as president of the chamber of deputies. Signor Orlando, the newspaper added, desired to return to his seat as a deputy in the chamber and again participate in active political life.

QUIT AT GALVESTON, TEXAS

GALVESTON, Tex., June 9.—The dock strike situation here continued quiet today with freight congestion showing further improvement. ## THE BIG NOISE

The G. O. P. convention is one grand conglomeration of noise. And the biggest noise of all, so the delegates for other candidates say, is that made by deep voiced Hiram Johnson and the lusty-lunged boosters of his who are on from California. If noise will win—noise created with a keen sense for psychological effect—then look out for Hiram and listen for his "big noise."

Leaders Move for Harmony

and a report from the credentials committee which makes up the permanent roll."

Missouri got back her two lost delegates, through last night's action of the credentials committee which reversed the national committee's decision that conditions in the election in Kansas City were so bad it would not seat any of the delegates. That restored the total number of delegates in the convention to 351 and the number necessary for a nomination to 193.

The overturning of the national committee's decision in the Tennessee contest also came as a surprise. Robert R. Church of Memphis, reputed to be one of the wealthiest and most influential negroes in the south, had been seated by the national committee after a straight out black and white fight in which the whites charged that the negroes had bolted the convention. Church, said to favor Lowden, was seated by the national committee and had backing of many prominent members in his fight. The credentials committee threw it out. The white contestants appealed to the committee to take the republican organization in Memphis out of the hands of the negro domination.

Ideal convention weather continued today. A cool, crisp breeze blew off Lake Michigan, and the sun was shining. It was the remark of everyone that the convention hall was unusually comfortable.

At 11:15 Chairman Lodge arrived on the platform with National Chairman Hays.

Chairman Lodge stepped out to the speakers' space at 11:20 o'clock and he got three cheers, also with a tiger. Dr. John Timothy Stone was today's chaplain. The convention stood while he offered prayer.

In closing Bishop Stone led the great audience in the Lord's Prayer. The song leader was immediately on the job, and led the audience in the Star Spangled Banner.

Chairman Lodge called for the report of the credentials committee. Chairman Duffield of New Jersey came to the platform to present it.

The report recommended the changes decided upon at last night's meeting of the committee. Mr. Duffield moved the adoption of the report. Robert R. Church of Memphis, who had been unseated by the credentials committee, said he would not ask the convention to consider a minority report.

"I know I am entitled to sit," said Church, "but I shall take my fight back to Tennessee."

The report of the credentials committee was adopted without dissent and the convention next heard the report from the committee on permanent organization presented by Gov. Morrow of Kentucky, its chairman. As agreed upon it recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent. The convention liked the idea of saving time and expediting another keynote speech and adopted the motion with cheers. Senator Lodge got another demonstration when he stepped forward, this time as permanent chairman of the convention.

"The best way to show gratitude to the convention for its action," said Senator Lodge, "will be to tell you there will be no speech by the permanent chairman."

The convention acknowledged its appreciation of that with more applause.

Paul Howland of Cleveland, O., presented the report of the committee on rules and order of business.

The report recommended four delegates-at-large from each state, one delegate from each congressional and one additional delegate for each district in which not less than 1000 votes have been cast for a republican candidate at the last election.

The only new material in the rules, Chairman Howland announced, was an increase in the executive committee of the republican national committee from 10 to 12 members and a new assistant secretary.

"Without saying so in expressed terms," he said, "this is to take care of our reinforcements to the republican party—the ladies."

The understanding is that the additional places all will go to women. The convention speedily adopted the report.

Chairman Lodge announced he would enforce the rule limiting speakers to five minutes and one speech on the same subject on the same day, unless the convention ordered otherwise. The resolutions committee sent word it could only report progress and was not yet ready to present platform.

Chairman Lodge asked the convention what it wanted to do in the meantime and there were cries of "Depew, Depew," from the floor.

Mrs. Hume was on the platform waiting to speak, and some had thought the honor of first addressing the convention would go to a woman.

Mr. Depew walked out on the speakers' platform to an accompaniment of applause and cheers.

Depew in Form

"He needs no introduction to a republican convention," said Senator Lodge, introducing him.

"Senator Lodge says I'm an old man, but he's mistaken," said Mr. Depew.

"A man down south who heard me speak recently wrote me a letter and said he heard I claimed to be only 55. 'All I have to say is,' he wrote, 'that you are either a miracle or a defunct liar.'" next November still a mystery, even to themselves.

While giving unopposed approval yesterday to Chairman Lodge's keynote address calling for destruction of the "Wilson dynasty" not a sign of any preference came from those whose votes will select the republican candidate to undertake the job. There was no demonstration even for favorite sons; no mention of the "Big Three" among the aspirants—Wood, Johnson and Lowden.

Lodge as Permanent Chairman

Working with unprecedented freedom from centralized leadership or "boss" control, the delegates promptly ratified a program designed to make permanent the temporary organization. Adoption of the organization committee's report, a foregone result, will place the seal in Senator Lodge's hands as the permanent presiding officer and set the convention off on the second stage of its journey with little prospect that it will reach a ballot on the presidential nomination before Friday or possibly Friday night.

Wood Gets Pleased

Out of other developments yesterday, however, which placed Senator Watson of Indiana at the head of the platform building machinery, the resolutions committee, and made Edward D. Duffield of New Jersey chairman of the credentials committee, General Wood's credentials drew much comfort. Both men are delegates instructed for Wood. Frank Hitchcock, invested yesterday with the authority of supreme commander over the Wood-feld forces, saw a "psychological" advantage to his candidate in the "victory."

Lowden Gaining Strength

Leaders who in other days were the main spring of party action did not share Mr. Hitchcock's views. They continued to talk much of Gov. Lowden's gaining strength; while from camps of Senator Johnson and the Illinois governor came assertions from the candidates themselves that they were "satisfied" with the situation, coupled with expressions of optimism as to the outcome of the balloting.

Election of Wood men to the two important chairmanships was regarded by the general supporters as tending to aid in helping delegations instructed for him in line during the balloting. Admittedly, any development which would have that effect would be valuable to any candidate.

Little Business as Day's Program

Aside from guesses as to what the more than 500 uninstructed delegates will do when the roll is called for their votes, the main topic of conjecture has been the number of ballots through which the "Big Three" can hold the lines of their instructed cohorts. Should their forces remain firm indefinitely the search for a dark horse will begin in earnest to break the three-way deadlock that would result.

Little business confronted the delegates when they assembled for the day. With the temporary organization to be made permanent, no speech of the permanent presiding officer was on the program.

Matters in order were the reports of the resolutions committee as to its progress in shaping up a platform for ratification and that of the credentials committee on the permanent roll of the convention on which the voting will be done.

The resolutions committee worked late but it still had many interests to hear when it resumed today.

While the full resolutions committee is engaged with hearings, however, a sub-committee of 13, named last night by Senator Watson and over which he will also preside, will proceed with the actual cutting and fitting of platform planks. On its face this move was designed to seek harmony on proposed party declarations of principle, views of all candidates for nomination being represented in the sub-committee personnel.

Talk of Johnson Bolt

Deliberations of the resolution's subcommittee as to the treaty plank were watched with particular interest. There has been an undercurrent of feeling that if it did not satisfy the Johnson-Borah demand for repudiation of the League of Nations covenant in its entirety, the two senators might carry the fight to the floor of the convention itself. Both have hinted at such a course in recent statements or speeches and about those hints have grown up talk of a Johnson bolt.

Examination of the remarks of the two "irreconcilable" leaders in the treaty fight, however, discloses nothing of a positive nature as to Senator Johnson's plans and it appeared obvious that Senator Watson had assembled his platform sub-committee for the purpose of avoiding a clash on the floor through bringing to bear on formulation of the treaty plank all available forces.

SAYS DEAD ENGINEER RAN BY SIGNALS

NEW YORK, June 9.—New York Central officials here said that Martin Doyle, engineer of the express that crashed into a passenger train near Schenectady, early today, had run by three signals in meeting death at his post on his 50th birthday.

He disregarded a distant signal, 1½ miles from the standing train they said; then passed a home signal, three-quarters of a mile from the passenger train and finally ignored the flagman, who had gone back with a red lantern.

Railroad officials announced that the block signals had been inspected after the wreck and found to be in working order and set against the express train.

BRYAN URGES "DRY" PLANK

CHICAGO, June 9.—William Jennings Bryan strongly urged that the republican convention endorse the 15th amendment as interpreted by the Volstead act, in an address before a mass meeting of "drys."

"All I can say to those republicans in convention here is that I will be at San Francisco in a more important capacity than I am here," said Mr. Bryan. "I would rather hold the republican convention up as an example to the San Francisco meeting than to be forced to have to deprecate its stand, should it dodge this question. The committee handling the framing of the republican platform should approve what that party has already done through its representatives at Washington."

"If a clear 'dry' plank is adopted here, I will see that my party embraces the very same words in a similar plank."

WILL OPEN BATH HOUSE NEXT WEEK

The new municipal bath house off the Pawtucket boulevard on the bank of the Merrimack river, which was formally dedicated last fall, will be officially opened for the 1920 season sometime next week according to present plans of the park commission.

Bathing suits for patrons of the bath house, which were ordered early last winter from the state prison authorities, have not yet arrived, but Supl. John W. Kernan said today that the bath house will be opened without them next week. The exact day has not been definitely decided, but notice will be given in advance.

DRIVE AGAINST BOLSHEVISM

LONDON, June 9.—Anti-Bolshevik forces in the Crimea have begun an offensive movement, which is reported from Moscow to have won initial successes. The Bolsheviks retrieved a part of the advantage lost, however, says the soviet official communiqué.

ACCUSED OF BEING "PEN" OF GANG OF FORGERS

NEW YORK, June 9.—Charles Henry Conrad Fisher, 72, was arrested here today on a charge of being the "pen" of a gang of forgers which has defrauded New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Providence and New Haven banks out of $40,000.

The gray haired old man, whose police record is alleged to show he passed 40 years in prison, is alleged to have acted with four others in forgery schemes. Admissions implicating him are said to have been made by Jacob Stern, Edward Leslie, Louis Novelle and Steve Nelson, who are under arrest in New Haven.

Detective Leahy of New Haven, assisted in Fisher's arrest.

CONVENTION "FUNNIES"

Will Rogers "Cracks" a Few Jokes at the Expense of the G. O. P.

BY WILL ROGERS
(Famous Oklahoma Cowboy Wit)
I am being paid to write something funny about this republican convention. That's funny.

All a fellow has to do to write something funny on a republican convention is just write what happened.

Chauncey Depew and I were about the last to decide to write. Chauncey has the advantage of me. He knows his jokes are good 'cause he has told them for years.

The convention is starting out with a big setback. A carload of champagne from California billed for Chicago for medicinal purposes was held up.

In the first place the convention is to be held in Chicago. Chicago is located just north of the United States. I am well acquainted with the American consul there.

Chicago holds the record for murders and robberies and republican conventions.

The republicans had to hold their convention either in Chicago or New York this year as no other city was big enough to hold all their candidates.

Mexico don't know how to get rid of Villa. Loan him to us for a vice-president. That would get both nations rid of him.

If the republicans split as they did eight years ago everybody better start preparing to be kept out of another war.

They don't know whether to seat the colored delegates or not. If they do it will be far back near the door.

To show you true democracy will rule the convention, the first thing they did was to throw out two delegates the people had elected.

The democrats are investigating the republican slush funds and if they find where it's coming from they want theirs.

G. O. P. Convention

relations of opinion as to what it should say.

WOOD MEN ELATED OVER FIRST VICTORY

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Wood forces were elated last night, although the general trend of talk among old-line political leaders is toward Lowden. The Wood men won a victory in the principal business transacted.

Instructed Wood delegates won the two most important convention chairships—Senator Watson of Indiana for resolutions and Edward Duffield of New Jersey for credentials.

Frank H. Hitchcock was designated by the Wood delegates as their supreme strategist.

WORKED ALL NIGHT HEARING APPEALS

CHICAGO, June 9.—Working all night at forced draft speed, the credentials committee completed the permanent roll of the republican national committee at 4:30 this morning. Previous rulings on contests by the national committee were sustained in all but three cases.

103 Appeals Disposed Of

In disposing of 103 appeals from the decisions made last week by the national committee, two delegates were taken from Gov. Lowden—one in Georgia and one in Tennessee, and given to Gen. Wood, but in the fifth Missouri (Kansas City) district, where the national committee refused to seat anyone, the credentials committee, seated two Lowden men, leaving the standing of the two candidates unchanged.

The permanent roll will be ready for presentation to the convention when it meets at 11 o'clock this morning.

National Committee Overruled

Robert R. Church, negro, Lowden delegate, was the Tennessee case in which the national committee was overruled. He was ousted in favor of Chas. B. Quinn, white, instructed for Wood, when Quinn's counsel declared the Church faction had bolted the district convention.

There is probability of further battles on contested seats when the report of the credentials committee is laid before the convention. In some cases, including the Tennessee case, efforts to overrule the committee by vote of the convention were planned.

As the report does not embody any serious departure from the temporary roll or affect enough votes to make it an important object for supporters of any candidate to override the committee, however, no long struggle was expected.

REPUBLICANS TO HEAR IRISH CLAIM

CHICAGO, June 9.—Speaking of his mission to Chicago, President DeValera of the "Irish republic" said last night that the Friends of Irish Freedom had submitted a plank to the resolutions committee of the republican convention favoring recognition of the Irish republic.

"If any word of mine can add strength to this effort of our friends, it is my duty in fulfillment of my mission to be here," said he. "We earnestly plead for the assistance which, if prompt and energetic, will be decisive."

This question of recognition is distinctly an American question. The decision is yours, and yours only—yours to say whether you shall continue to recognize the government of might in Ireland, or begin now to recognize the government of right."

Mr. De Valera said that those in charge of presentation of the case to the convention resolutions committee have agreed on a resolution that will be satisfactory to them, and so informed the committee.

Plank De Valera Supports

The resolution follows:
"Mindful of the circumstances of the birth of our nation, we reassert the principle that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed."

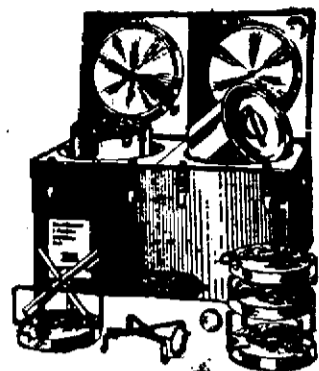

"We deny the right of strong nations to enslave the weak and to make them subject to their interests. We believe attempts to prosecute claims to such a right to be the fruitful source of wars, accordingly in the interests of world peace, and because America has always stood for justice we offer our traditional sympathy to all nations such as Ireland, rightly struggling to be free."

"We stand firmly by our right in law and will support the continuance of our established practice of recognizing without intervention to all such cases and where the people of a nation, as in Ireland, have repudiated the alien governments claiming to rule them, and by a free vote of the people have set up a republic and chosen a government to which they yield willing obedience, it will be the policy of our party to accord to the elected governments of such republics and in particular the republic of Ireland, full, formal and official recognition, thus vindicating these principles for which our soldiers offered up their lives in the recent war."

LADY ASTOR SPEAKS AT SUFFRAGE CONGRESS

GENEVA, June 8.—In a frequently applauded speech at yesterday's session of the International Woman Suffrage Congress here, Lady Astor gave the delegates her view of how women could and would be great influences for good in the world under their civic responsibilities. She said she felt great responsibility herself, as a woman member of the oldest parliament in the world, entrusted with representing Great Britain, and she added parenthetically: "I am not quite certain that all the men do quite trust either me or my sex, as a whole."

"War," she said, "is a terrible wrong, but not necessarily the greatest wrong. I am not sure that slavery, oppression and intolerance are not even greater ills."

Discussing the League of Nations as one of the outstanding questions of the world, Lady Astor suggested: "Let us avoid talking cant about the league. The ideal is fine, but unless the people and nations are just toward each other the league is utterly useless." She declared that the league merely provided machinery which would help prevent wars.

Lady Astor expressed the opinion that women had special responsibility in humanitarian measures. "I shall always be glad I made my first speech in parliament on drink," she said, "because every woman knows how much sorrow and suffering it brings into the homes."

"Woman's opportunities are great," Lady Astor continued. "We must not flatter ourselves," she declared, "that the world will ever be put right by woman as she now is, but as she is going to be."

Other speakers were Mrs. Helen King Robinson of Colorado and Madame Schwimmer, president of the Hungarian Woman Suffrage association.

Madame Schwimmer, who was formerly Hungarian ambassador to Switzerland, advocated women entering the diplomatic service, which she said needed truth and frankness instead of secret jealousy and intrigue.

The entire morning session was devoted to the question of whether the alliance should be continued. A program to continue it on broader lines for the benefit of women and humanity in general with the elimination of the word "suffrage" from its title was considered.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, president of the alliance, and Mrs. Charlotte Despard and Miss Chrystal MacMillan, English delegates, told the Associated Press that the delegates of many countries favored this program, only the Germans objecting. Therefore, they said, it would surely be adopted.

CADETS' ANNUAL MILITARY MASS

Further plans for the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets to be held on Sunday, June 27, at the Immaculate Conception church at 3 o'clock were outlined at a largely attended meeting of the cadets last evening. Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual director, was present and indications point to one of the most successful affairs of its kind that the Boliviere organization has yet staged. There will be an entire battalion of cadets in khaki, three companies in naval blue and three more in West Point uniforms. The reorganized O.M.I. Cadet Pipe and Drum corps of 50 pieces will appear for the first time. After the mass a breakfast will be served at the cadet armory to all present members of the organization as well as all former members who served in the world war.

POLISH BOND DRIVE IN FULL SWING

B. F. Gmarnicki of the Boyton committee of the Polish bond drive was the principal speaker at a mass meeting of Polish speaking people held recently at the Polish club in Coburn street, and in the course of his address he told at length of the sufferings of Poland and he also dwelt upon the resources of that country, telling his listeners that Poland is solvent and fully capable of discharging the debts she incurs. Anthony Paprowicz, vice president of the local committee, also addressed the gathering, and at the close of the meeting the local subscriptions, which amounted to close to $16,000, were raised to over $19,000. It was announced that before the close of the campaign two mass meetings will be held next Sunday, one in the assembly hall of the Polish school in High street and the other at the Polish club, and next Thursday another meeting will be held in the vicinity of Adams street, the place to be announced later.

MME. COTTRELL-POWELL, STATUESQUE RIDER WITH THE SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS

EQUESTRIENNE OFFERS RIDING NOVELTY

Mme. Cottrell-Powell offers a real riding novelty in the Sells-Floto circus. It is essentially a statuesque posing act on horseback. Nothing prettier in the riding line has been seen in the circus in recent years, according to the Chicago newspaper reviewers. Mme. Cottrell-Powell's act is especially notable for the beauty of her horses. They are full-blooded Arabians and show their breeding and intelligence in their work. A feature of the act is the trained cleverness of a little black pony, which stands out in silhouette against the whiteness of the larger horses utilized in the display.

The Sells-Floto management promotes many novelties in riding. The Koonceys, the Hobsons and the Hodginsons are especially praised for the sureness and celerity of their equestrianism, and in presenting the famous Hanneford family from the New York Hippodrome the public is afforded an opportunity to see not only the greatest riding act in the world, but also the one commanding the highest price ever paid for a strictly circus act. "Poodles" Hanneford, the riding clown, is a whole show in himself.

In addition to the riding numbers, the Codonas and Flying Nelsons offer two great aerial acts; Berta Beeson and LaBelle Victoria dance on a swinging wire; Beatrice Sweeney whirls 120 times in a minute while suspended by her teeth in the dome of the great tent and there are many other sensational displays. And there are 50 clowns, led by Marceline, the famous clown from the New York and London Hippodromes.

The big show exhibits in Lowell tomorrow.

The Arvensis Sunday school class of Calvary Baptist church observed "Gentlemen's night" last night at the home of Richard Gumb, 63 Oakland street. The grounds were decorated with Chinese lanterns and the class colors—purple and gold—and crepe paper hats to match the colors were worn by those present. The arrangement of the decorations was in charge of Miss Emma Bowen. The general program of the evening was in charge of a committee made up of Mary Gordon, Lena Gumb, Laura Gumb and Lillian Holman. The games were under the direction of Wallace Gumb and Mary Gordon.

HI-Y CLUB BOYS CLOSE ACTIVE SEASON

The Hi-Y club of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. brought another active season to a close last evening, with a banquet held in the association gymnasium, at which Henry H. Harris, John A. Stevens and H. F. Howe, general secretary, were the principal speakers. The sociability of the event was marked and the interest manifested foretold only good things for the organization in the years ahead.

The retiring officers—President Patrick Mullane, Vice President William Thompson, Secretary Herbert Robbins and Treasurer Donald Adams—occupied chairs at the head table with the guests. A nominating committee consisting of George Stewart, Douglas Walker and Donald Adams brought in the following nominees for 1919-1921 who were unanimously elected: President, William Thompson; vice president, Herbert Robbins; secretary, Samuel Brockmeyer; treasurer, Willis Wright.

Each of the three speakers stressed the point of gaining knowledge in every possible way and at every turn of the road of life. "Strive to excel in whatever you do," said Mr. Stevens, and added that the educated man today has a start of 20 years in the first 25 over the uneducated man. The training of memory also was an interesting point brought out.

Henry H. Harris told the club boys that to be successful a young man must be dependable, trustworthy and accurate and that character is the greatest thing in the world.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 9.—Clear skies, smooth seas and the softest of northerly airs, greeted the Resolute and Vanitie as they prepared today for the fourth of the elimination races off this port. After yesterday's contest against light winds and a six-hour time limit, it was hoped that something stronger might be vouchsafed by the weather authorities.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

Member of the Associated Press

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

We shall soon find out whether it is possible to drop a couple of million dollars in the slot and take out the republican presidential nomination.

Who would have thought that members of the Massachusetts delegation to Chicago would have been held up and searched by prohibition agents like ordinary bootleggers—and the goods found on some of them, too?

It is not cheering news that comes from the office of the purchasing agent for the city of Lowell that not a single bid was received in response to a request recently made for proposals to supply the municipality with 6000 tons of coal. If the required fuel cannot be bought now, what are the conditions likely to be next winter?

The republican national convention may declare for enforcement of prohibition in the platform it adopts, but the Chicago sellers of "wet" goods are evidently not in any doubt as to the attitude of the delegates as individuals on the question of bone dryness. Reliable reports indicate that a large part of the convention city is an oasis of alcoholic dampness.

RECORD OF CONGRESS

During the session of congress just closed the republicans have been in control of both branches and all bills. From the opening to the closing day the leaders of the party have labored, not to enact legislation that was sorely needed to correct economic and other ills of the country, but to produce political capital that could be used in the coming presidential and congressional campaigns.

More investigations have been ordered and conducted than ever before in the history of congress. The animating purpose of these probes has been to besmirch the record made by the executive and administrative departments of the government while under democratic control during the four most trying years in the nation's life.

Perhaps the voters of the nation are getting ready to turn the government over to the party whose leaders have placed partisan above public welfare, who have persistently blocked efforts to enact constructive legislation, and have made a record for inefficiency and partisan narrowness that has seldom if ever been equalled. We doubt it.

PROFIT AND SERVICE

A recent public speaker in Lowell said "the coming campaign will be largely a struggle between two ideals—profit and power vs. service and sacrifice."

The republican party in the days of its youth stood for service, and its ideals of a united nation freed from slavery gripped the imaginations of the people and swept it into power. Its early ideals were long ago realized and it has had few new ones to take their places. The party in time became the tool of the Mark Hannas and Matt Quays to be used in the interests of those who bought legislatures, corrupted judges and controlled legislation for their own private and selfish ends.

No more scathing denunciations of the party and its leaders have ever been uttered than those that came from the lips of the late Theodore Roosevelt, who held office as a republican president for nearly eight years and had a more complete knowledge of the inner workings of his party and its unscrupulous leaders than anyone else could have.

The party has not changed with passing years. It is the same old party, and under the control today of the same old leaders, that once held within its ranks United States senators whose seats had been bought for them with Standard Oil money, that sanctioned the selection of judges by other big financial interests, and that made liberal returns to contributors to its campaign funds by passing out provisions in the shape of tariff legislation. It is to be the same old fight this year that it has been in the past between the forces that stand for profit and power and those that represent service and sacrifice.

A. F. OF L. REPORT

The report of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, presented at Montreal sets forth in plain language the principles that the members of the council believe should guide the federation in its future activities. Taking the document as a whole, it offers a constructive program for the workers of the country. Some of its demands would have seemed radical and dangerous a few years ago, but of late the world has moved rapidly forward to a realization that the toilers must be given a fuller share in the direction of the industries in which they work unless a worse condition is to come into existence.

The keynote of the report, that may be called labor's platform, is "co-operation." "Adoption of the principles of voluntary effort and full co-operation," the report says, "will bring the industrial life of the nation to such a status that production will cease forever to be a problem in American life."

The setting up of voluntary conference boards, as demanded by the report, has been successfully carried out in numerous industries both in this country and abroad, and it would seem quite certain that the movement is bound to receive a wider application in the future. The worker with a knowledge of his employer's problems and the employer with a more complete understanding of the point of view of his employees are certain to work together much more harmoniously and profitably than when both are in the dark as to each other's difficulties.

It may very likely prove true that in co-operation will be found a remedy for the open warfare manifested in strikes and lockouts which have proved so costly to the actual participants and to the public in the past.

It is encouraging to read in the report the denunciation of Bolshevism and all the other brands of radicals that some have feared were gaining a foothold among the country's toilers. The pronouncement made in the Montreal document proves conclusively that as a body the organized laborers of the country are sound to the core in their patriotism and adherence to peaceful methods of bringing about the desired changes in industrial conditions of the country.

THE KEYNOTE SPEECH

Senator Lodge's keynote speech is one of his very best efforts. Considering the material on which he had to work, he made the best of the situation.

Lodge's forte has always lain in his denunciation of the opposition. In the present case, he has used all his powers of invective in scoring President Wilson, representing him as an autocrat breaking down the institutes of representative government and despite the provisions of the constitution, trying to foist upon the nation over the heads of the senators, a peace treaty and League of Nations which would link this nation with the other autocratic and imperial nations of the earth.

In the arraignment of the democratic record, Mr. Lodge evaded anything beyond passing reference to the record of the recent republican congress. Of that there was little to be said for the reason that but for the railroad bill it would have been almost a blank.

The first great issue advocated for the salvation of the nation is the overthrow of "Mr. Wilson and his dynasty, his heirs and assigns." "Unless this is accomplished the Russian descent to barbarism will be brought to our doors," says Mr. Lodge.

Oh, dear, what a dreadfully perilous position we are in if we are to credit Mr. Lodge's perverted oratory.

The League of Nations as framed by Wilson must be defeated, and in this connection, Mr. Lodge did not advocate the league even with the reservations of his own framing attached.

The other score to be thrown into the nation is on the Mexican question. In this respect Lodge took his stand practically in favor of Senator Fall's report. "Unless Mexico straightens out and maintains orderly government, we will go down there and chastise her. That is the republican policy so far as indicated by Lodge's keynote."

On the high cost of living, a subject of some interest to the nation, the keynote senator has remedy, although he says everything that can be done by law to remedy the high prices should be done; and another remedy recommended is increased production, particularly on the farms; but we fail to see that the republican party can lay special claim to either for the reason that both have been repeatedly invoked by democratic officials.

He condemns government ownership of railroads which does not exist; but he assaults it as a matter of policy, a piece of supererogation on the senator's part, as nobody ever suspected the republican party of favoring government ownership. Rather did the party tend towards the opposite evil of allowing certain interests to own the government.

Lodge's speech reads well and doubtless sounded well to those who heard it; but there is little in it to offer to the country any assurance of efficient government in case the republican party should be restored to power.

THE PAGEANT

In the spectacular pageant of Lowell's history presented on the South common, the people of this city had a splendid illustration of what community service can do. That production brought together for a common purpose, pleasing and instructive to all, practically all the leading nationalities in Lowell; and judging from the vast assemblage of spectators, every feature and movement was watched with intense interest.

On the merits of the pageant, we cannot speak too highly. The conception was that of a poetical epic following the great events of our history with allegorical representations that appealed to the imagination of the spectators. It was certainly a great show and it was carried out with a precision of detail that indicated long and careful preparation. The general spectators did not hear the language used by the dramatic personae, but the dialogues and addresses were doubtless true to the historic events of which they treated. The colonial dances, the reception to President Jackson, the war scenes and the representation of the flag produced by the costumes of many hundreds of children were very unique features.

It is plain that tremendous work was given to the preparation of this pageant for the benefit of the public. The men and women who gave their time to this work free of charge deserve at least the full measure of appreciation that such laborers for the good of others should bring. This, the first great effort of the Community Service, has vindicated the existence of the organization and proved its necessity as a centre from which to conduct movements for all the people. It should not only silence criticism of the community service, but cause all those who have thus far stood aloof to join the organization and help it along for the public good. Its benefits will accrue mainly to the various foreign elements of the community, but ultimately to the city in oblitterating the racial barriers that now keep those elements apart and in uniting all in one homogeneous people.

The need of an organization representing the community was seen in the representative character of the pageant. No other single organization in Lowell may perhaps not all the others combined, could produce anything so elaborate and so pleasing to all the various elements in our community. The Community Service has a platform on which all can meet on a common level in social intercourse or in the advancement of some worthy movement. The pageant was produced from patriotic motives; but if some calamity had befallen our city, how quickly could this Community club summon for relief work all the various sections of our people and thus render a service such as no other organization could attempt. From every aspect the Community Service is a necessity in our city; it may be a great factor in promoting Americanization by breaking down ethnological barriers and linking in the hands of friend-ship peoples who have heretofore regarded one another with distrust if not with enmity or prejudice. If by this service we can establish good will and a neighborly spirit where mutual suspicion and jealousy now exist, we shall have accomplished a great Christian work.

STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Herbert Sullivan, aged three years, son of Darius and Cora Sullivan of Middlesex street, was struck by an automobile last evening near his home and received a slight injury to his foot. The automobile is owned and was being operated by Frank Smith, also of Middlesex street.

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, so far the sweet girl graduates have offered pretty good consolation for the sugar shortage.

That $500 appropriated for the city's Fourth of July observance looks like safe and sane propaganda.

That pageant was better than a week's poring over musty pages of history.

Begins to look as though G.O.P. means Gladly Old Party, judging from Chicago dispatches.

The old soft hat seems about 50 per cent. more shabby than ever when you have to resurrect it after having worn a shining straw for a week or so.

As far as municipal salaries and wages are concerned, the word "adjustment" has become synonymous with "elevation."

In a setting of eggs Mrs. Margaret Ward of Vernon, N.C., placed under a hen was an unidentified egg which had been found in a field. The strange egg is now a henhawk, and the hen is mothering it.

Oh, What a Stab!

Said Mrs. Newrich—"Strange that you find it so hard to keep your help. I never have any difficulty in keeping mine."

"Ah," replied Mrs. Hanton, "but you have a great advantage over us. You naturally find it easy to humor them by treating them as equals."

Registering the Baby

A woman whose husband, a soldier, was stationed abroad, went to register her new baby. After answering all the necessary questions she put down $1. "There is no charge," said the registrar, "What?" answered the mother, and after thinking murmured: "Wait till he comes home, it has cost me a dollar every time he has registered over six children."

Night Resemblance

One of the Texan friends of Representative Cooper met him the other day.

"You smoke, don't you?" he asked.

"Sometimes," said Cooper.

"Take this," remarked the Texan.

"This is something like a cigar."

Cooper took the weed, lighted it and puffed three or four times.

"Yes," he assented, "this is something like a cigar. What is it?"

Twins Good Stuff

Sarah Simpson is a very strong-minded woman. If you don't believe it ask her husband.

"No, Samuel, remember! If that man Johnson offers you anything to drink you will refuse!"

Samuel sighed as he agreed to her edict.

Later as they started for home, Sarah eyed her spouse with gloom in her face.

"When Mr. Johnson made that peculiar sign to you," she began, "and shortly afterward you both hurried from the room, where did you go, Samuel?"

"Oh—er—yes, my dear! He merely asked me to step into his study to look at some old books he bought recently. You know I have a taste for books."

"Yes, Samuel, and from what I heard, your taste—for books—was highly gratified. You forgot to close the study door and I heard a smacking of lips and then you exclaimed: 'Ah, that's the stuff!'"

Waiting

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)
Down the distance separating,
Somewhere there's a mother waiting,
Waiting while her life endures,
Waiting for a loving letter,
Which shall make her hurt heart
Is that mother yours?

Somewhere, where the postman lingers,
Anger's mother's reaching fingers,
Ever hoping to be thrilled,
Fingers which have served and blessed
You—
And whose tender touch caressed
Shall they not be filled?

Somewhere, where the stars are gleaming,
There's a mother lies a dreaming
Of the hopes her days contain,
And her mother face grows tender
At the message you shall send her—
Is her dream in vain?

Past all watching, past all sleeping,
Somewhere there's a mother weeping,
Under God's eternal blue,
And her last sigh spent its thought on
One who seemed to have forgotten;
"Tell me, was it you?"

TAXI MEN DISCUSS

BOND QUESTION

The matter of a bond to be furnished the city by taxicabs and limousine owners of this city as proposed recently by the Lowell Chamber of Commerce was discussed informally at a meeting of the Lowell Limousine Owners' association, which was held last evening in the quarters of the organization in Appleton street. President J. J. Sullivan occupied the chair and, although no action was taken, all present expressed themselves as being opposed to the bond. Other matters of importance were also discussed.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A double birthday party in honor of Miss Margaret McCoy and Miss Florence Ellis of Chelmsford was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McCoy, South street, Centre village. Over 50 young people attended the festivities and all enjoyed the program thoroughly. In the course of the evening refreshments were served and electric selections were given. Two large birthday cakes were cut and shared with the guests. The two hostesses were showered with congratulations and best wishes and were presented many pretty remembrances. Mrs. McCoy was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Charles H. Ellis. Mrs. Herbert Rose paired, while Mrs. Jennie Hare had charge of the games.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

If the law upholds the act of an officer in commanding the services of an officer of lower rank free of charge, just for the reason that he is superior in rank, then the bill for garage services incurred by a local man who stalled his machine on the Boston road lately, need not be paid. The man spoken of is a sergeant on the police force, and one night recently he lost his bearings, that is, the bearings in his auto gave out when about seven miles from Lowell. Luckily, he found a brother officer of lower rank, who had motored out that way to do a little farm work, and asked him to get the stalled auto going again. Since he left a row of potatoes uncovered and lost an hour's work on his farm, this officer made out a bill in garage style, which included the amount of "gas used," "expert advice," "assistant," "use of tow rope" and "loss of work on the potato patch." The sergeant claims, however, that he commanded the services of his brother officer in his official capacity, and that he does not have to pay for such aid. So there it rests.

As a spectator the Man About Town has found food for thought and reflection in the happenings at the session just ended of the superior court held in Lowell for the purpose of granting final papers to applicants for citizenship. Probably 50 per cent. of the applicants have been of middle age or past, and nearly all of them have been residents of the United States for periods varying from 15 to 30 years or more. Very few under 30 years of age have come forward to renounce their allegiance to foreign governments. It would be interesting to know the reasons that influence men to live in this country for a good part of their lifetimes without becoming citizens, and then come to the conclusion that citizenship may be a desirable thing after all. Some of the answers given to questions propounded by the examiner to those hopeful of attaining citizenship have lent an element of humor to the proceedings. The lack of information regarding the history of this country and its institutions has in some cases been remarkable. In the mind of one interrogated applicant the single fact that Abraham Lincoln had been president during the Civil war seemed to have taken firm lodgment. About the Civil war itself he was not so certain and he placed the date and place of its beginning as in 1776 at Philadelphia. With this same applicant the discovery of America by Columbus was a moveable event and he shifted the date on which he thought it occurred about through three centuries.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the department of streets and highways believes that Lowell people are willing to pay a higher tax rate this year than last providing it is what he terms "an honest tax rate." In discussing the matter the other day, he said that the state and county taxes have increased greatly this year and that this was merely a reflection of the increased cost of labor and materials. The city, he said, has had to meet increased expenses merely to keep up its usual amount of work, to say nothing of making advances in the way of departmental equipment. "The street department, for instance," he cited, "is spending money year after year for repairs to its machinery exposed to storms all year simply because it hasn't proper accommodations for storage during the winter. There are not tools enough in the department to do the kind of work that it should do in a city of this kind. I believe that if a city is going to progress it must spend the money and if it is honestly spent, I believe that people are willing to pay."

The hundreds of pleasure cars parked in the vicinity of the South common at Monday night's pageant comprised the most elaborate automobile show ever held in the city and they all gathered without the help of an organizer and with no exhibition booths reserved. All four sides of the common area were lined with cars of every description, light and make; every available yard of roadway was taken and scores were forced to seek parking space elsewhere. This was but one of the many features of a most unusual event. Another outstanding feature was the tremendous drawing power of the pageant idea, which nobody believed had any more than taken bare root in the minds of the city's people. The mere fact that it was an excellent beginning means even larger crowds in the future and while it would be "too much of a good thing" to ask Mrs. Keyes to direct another without allowing her an extended vacation, it is seriously hoped that the interest now engendered will not be allowed to wane and that many more will follow in the wake of this splendid inauguration.

REPORT BIG DECREASE IN WHEAT PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Despite an improvement of 13,000,000 bushels in the winter crop during May and an indicated spring crop of 68,000,000 bushels greater than that of last year, the total wheat production for 1920 was estimated yesterday by the department of agriculture as only 781,000,000 bushels or 180,000,000 bushels less than the total for 1919.

From its condition on June 4, the spring crop was estimated at 227,000,000 bushels or 15,000,000 more than the five year average. A total winter wheat production of 554,000,000 bushels was forecast. This is 225,000,000 less than that of last year and 33,000,000 below the average for the five years ending in 1918.

"All told, the present outlook is considerably better than it could reasonably have been hoped for earlier," said the department's announcement.

"While almost a fifth less than the great crop of last year, it is only a 20th less than the average crop for the five years, 1914-1918, which included the three largest crops in our history, excepting last year's crop." Simultaneously with the department's announcement of its production forecast, a committee representing farm organizations presented a memorial at the White House calling President Wilson's attention to what was described as the "critical situation existing on the farm and the resulting menace to the nation's food supply."

Production of various crops forecast in today's monthly report from their June 1 condition follows:
Winter wheat, 504,000,000 bushels.
Spring wheat, 227,000,000 bushels.
Oats, 1,315,000,000 bushels.
Barley, 185,000,000 bushels.
Rye, 80,000,000 bushels.
Hay, 112,000,000 tons.
Apples, 129,000,000 bushels.
Peaches, 45,000,000 bushels.

The spring wheat area this year is 19,427,000 acres, or 83.5 per cent of last year's condition, 89.1 per cent of a normal, compared with 91.2 a year ago. Condition of winter wheat is 78.2 per cent of a normal, compared with 94.9 a year ago and 79.1 a month ago.

The area planted to oats this year is 41,032,000 acres, or 96.8 per cent of last year's.

The area planted to barley is 7,737,000 acres, or 100.2 per cent of last year's.
Condition of other crops: Oats, 57.3 per cent of a normal; barley, 87.4; rye, 81.4; hay, 55.3; pastures, 22.5; apples, 79.3; peaches, 64.8.

The natives of the Andaman Islands average 3 feet, 11 inches in height and weigh under 70 pounds.

Helps Husband to Escape Through Train Window

WOODLAND, Cal., June 7.—Although she had secured her husband's arrest for murder and bigamy, Mrs. Perry Steele of this city found her love for him so strong she could not bear to see him sent to jail.

After insisting on accompanying him to Williamsburg, Ky., to answer for the killing of Alonzo Bledsoe in 1906, she helped her husband in breaking his bonds and in escaping from the window of a moving train.

Some weeks ago Steele, who is 40, while his wife is still under 20, was arrested on a battery charge preferred by his wife. Following his arrest she told officials that Steele was wanted on a murder charge in Kentucky and that he was also a bigamist and embezzler. Steele later confessed.

Although the girl-wife's tale of the cruelty she had endured was pitiable, she could not force herself to stay away from Steele's cell. Her plea to accompany him was granted, resulting in Steele's escape. Police officials say they had planned to meet later at a designated place.

CARUSO ROBBED OF HALF MILLION IN JEWELS

EASTHAMPTON, N. Y., June 9.—The country home of Enrico Caruso, the tenor, was robbed yesterday afternoon and jewels, valued at $500,000 were stolen, the police reported last night. The stolen jewels included a diamond necklace valued at $75,000.

The robbery was discovered by Mrs. Caruso when she returned to her home at 10:30 o'clock last night and found the house ransacked. In addition to the diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, valued at between $75,000 and $100,000, the bride gift of Mr. Caruso, also was taken. A partial list of the stolen jewels, made public by the police, includes eight diamond rings, a pair of diamond earrings, two diamond hairpins, one flexible diamond bracelet, and two gold watches.

Caruso has been the victim of several other robberies. His villa near Florence, Italy, has been ransacked three times, and on the last occasion in 1912 several valuable art relics were stolen. A collection of stamps, rated high by experts, was taken from trunks which the opera singer had sent from New York to Naples in 1916. Thirty barrels of wine and an automobile owned by Caruso were "commandeered" from his Italian villa by a "work committee" during disorders around Florence last July.

CATHOLICS CELEBRATE DIAMOND JUBILEE

CHICAGO, June 9.—Roman Catholics prelates from all parts of the country took part in the opening of the three-day celebration of the diamond jubilee commemorating the establishing of the bishopric in Chicago and the silver jubilee of the ordination to the priesthood of Archbishop George W. Mundelein.

Four thousand persons attended pontifical high mass at Holy Name cathedral, which was preceded by a procession from the chancery office participated in by 25 bishops, 10 archbishops and 150 priests representing every order in the diocese.

Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Bonzano, apostolic delegate to the United States, occupied places of honor in the sanctuary. The sermon was preached by Archbishop Hayes of New York.

REPORT ON SURVEY OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

Chairman Thomas R. Delaney was instructed by the school committee at a meeting held late yesterday afternoon to confer with members of the municipal council in regard to making suitable repairs and additions to the present vocational school so that it may be in proper condition for occupancy next September.

The committee had previously asked the city government to take over one of the Ripelow-Hatfield mills in Market street to be used as a vocational school until the new high school should be completed, but owing to the financial condition of the city this project was abandoned.

Mr. Delaney was also instructed to confer with Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department relative to the repair of various school buildings throughout the city as recommended in a survey recently conducted by Henry L. Williams, business agent of the department.

In a report of the survey submitted to the committee at yesterday's meeting, Mr. Williams described in detail conditions in various school buildings and made recommendations for their improvement. In part, his report was as follows:

"It has been called to the attention of the school committee at different times the existence in several of our schools of the so-called dry closets. I am told that the committee has taken action on at least one occasion, and that the board of health has recommended on several occasions that these should be done away with as they are considered not only unsanitary, but a menace to the health of the children who are obliged to attend school in the buildings where these are installed. The school buildings having this system are as follows: Cabot street, Billings street, Lexington avenue, Moody

Sycamore street, Cross street, Carter street and Pine street schools.

"The first named, the Cabot street school, has been giving trouble for some time, and the odors in the basement and through the building at times are very, very bad. This, in my opinion, is one of the first places that should be attended to, removing the present dry closets and installing up to date sanitary equipment. This building is piped and equipped with gas.

"The conditions in the Billings street school are very similar to those of the Cabot street school. These closets should be removed at once, and new sanitary equipment installed. This building is equipped in the basement and teachers' room for gas, but has no other fixtures in the building.

"The Lexington avenue, Moody and Sycamore street schools operate fairly well during the period that the furnaces and stack fires are operated. When the weather gets the least warm and moist we have the same trouble with these schools as the others in the way of odors, etc. The Lexington avenue school is equipped with gas in the corridors, basement and two class rooms. The Sycamore street school, with the exception of one kerosene lantern, has no artificial light whatever.

"The conditions at the Carter street school are such as to demand the removing of the dry closets at once. The stairs are broken and it is almost impossible for the janitor to operate the system under the existing conditions owing to broken grates and general wreckage. Both toilet rooms at this school are very dark. There are gas lights in the basement and girls' toilet room, and the building is piped for gas as far as the ceilings of the school rooms."

Mr. Williams recommended that some action be taken to remedy conditions in these six schools as well as in the Cross street and Pine street schools before the opening of the fall term in September. The rest of his report, a lengthy one, dealt with conditions in the high school and various other grammar and primary schools in all parts of the city, some of which found in excellent condition as far as sanitary conveniences and lighting are concerned and others in which improvements should be made.

On motion of Dr. Hooley it was voted that Miss Frances H. O'Neill and Miss Mary B. Harrigan be elected regular teachers in the high school.

Miss Charlotte Murkland, principal of the Hartlett school, was given permission to visit Springfield schools for observation purposes.

POOR TIRED FEET

Your success may depend upon heeding their warning

T IRED feet are Nature's danger signal. They indicate that you are putting an unnatural strain on the delicately adjusted arches, which were designed to support your weight and absorb the jars of walking.

Nature never intended man to walk all day on hard modern floors and pavements. On the soft dirt paths of a generation ago, the natural arch in the human foot could function perfectly. But today, when floors, streets and sidewalks are hard and unyielding, Nature's provision is insufficient.

These conditions are a serious menace to health and efficiency. The records of the Hospital for Crippled in New York show that in the year 1890 (before the wide adoption of stony streets) only 2.6 per cent of the patients suffered from arch trouble. In 1906, the percentage had risen to 18.3 per cent, and today it is well over 30 per cent.

If you are a person of average activity, you take 8,000 steps a day. And every step with hard leather heels or "dead" rubber heels on still harder pavements is like a hammer blow to your whole nervous system. 8,000 shocks every day—that's why so many times you go home exhausted—so tired that a night's sleep cannot replenish your energy. Fatigue slows down your pace from day to day—inevitably you fall behind in the race for success.

How to save your health and energy

Men and women everywhere are meeting these changed conditions. They are turning to O'Sullivan's Heels as the best way to preserve their energy—to cushion their feet against the shocks of modern floors and pavements.

To secure the resiliency, the springiness of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are blended by a special formula. With this blend of live, springy rubber are "compounded" the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then "cured" or baked under high pressure.

This is why O'Sullivan's Heels absorb the jolts and jars of walking.

Stop pounding away your energy. Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes.

With every step on hard heels you are pounding away your energy

DR. CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS, Nature's great nerve and blood tonic for Jaundice, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Sleeplessness and Female Weakness.

BY MARGARET E. WERNER
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 7.—Allow me to introduce John and Patricia—adorable son and daughter of 15 young mothers of this city.

John and Patricia are "practice babies." Their home is the "practice house" of the home economics department of the University of Minnesota, and their mothers are 15 girl students in the class in home management.

Every reasonable person knows that a proper home should include a baby, and that is also the opinion of the directors of the department of home economics, entrusted with the instruction of scores of young women in the art and business of home making.

Miss Margaret Mumford, in charge of the classes in home management, told me the whole story of the "practice babies."

First School to Try It
"Our course in home economics," said Miss Mumford, "naturally includes classes in child care and training. We recognize that the normal, average home has children in it, and that it is just as important for the home-maker to know how to care for them as to know how to cook and clean the house. Minnesota determined to be the first school in the United States to try out practical child training as part of the home management course. This is the first year of the experiment and we think it pretty successful."

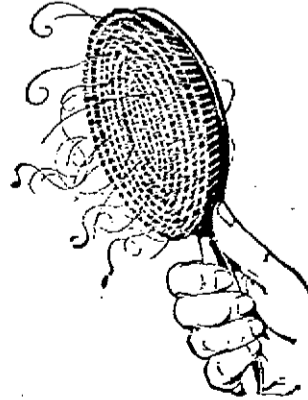

"Students in our department have three years of domestic theory and science, and the fourth year we put the training to the test by arranging that all seniors shall live for 12 weeks in one of the other of our two 'practice houses' and further, that each girl shall have two weeks as manager of the entire household. Twenty girls live in one house and 15 in the other and each 'family' includes a baby."

Graded on Actual Work
"Each student is actually graded in her work according to the degree of her success in management, her economy in buying, her skill in meal planning, and the growth and improvement of the baby while under her care."

"So far we have had three babies and the first was adopted by one of our foster-mothers. We have two babies now, both taken from a foundling home. We take them when they are from four to six months old and keep them until they are over a year old. These we have now have grown so

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR SHOULDERS BIG CONVENTION JOB

When the cry arose, "Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party," George F. Mara, prominent Connecticut attorney, was one of the first to respond, and he's been responding ever since on one of the most ticklish and exacting jobs of pre-convention days.

Mara is personal representative to San Francisco of Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee. Since his arrival in January, when he opened offices at the exposition auditorium where the big democratic convalescence begins June 23, he has taken care of official and press hotel reservations, directed auditorium arrangements and shouldered a great part of preliminary details. Any convention worker will tell the world that this is a man-size job.

Until June 9, when the national committee is scheduled to arrive, Mara is the only representative of that body in San Francisco, occupying the same position with the democrats that Fred Upham does with the republicans. He has had the additional handicap of having to do most of his consulting by long-range correspondence.

Mara is associated with Homer S. Cummings, state's attorney of Connecticut.

A number of offers of business connections have been received by the general, announcement of his retirement having given impetus to the communications on this subject. Those close to the general, however, said yesterday that he had not yet reached the point where he had given serious consideration to any of them.

WINNER WILL MEET EDDIE SHEVLIN WINS FRENCH CHAMPION FROM NATE SIEGAL

In addition to establishing a clear claim to logical contender for the New England lightweight title the winner of the Eddie Shevlin-Johnny Downes bout at Spaulding park next Saturday afternoon has the added incentive of a match with Georges Papin two weeks hence.

This fact has stimulated much interest in the coming contest and both Downes and Papin are training as never before to be in top form when the bell rings that will send them into the ring. Downes is a considerable road worker and is also putting in much time at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Downes is working out at Diamond Hill, R. I. He is training with Frankie Brown and several other black class performers. Word from the Rhode Island camp says the South Boston boy was never in better condition. Boy's return to form is the talk of New England boxing circles. After a lay-off of last February he jumped into the local ring as a substitute against Frankie Britt and gave the whiter a licking, though the referee called it a draw. Three weeks later he was back in the ring against a fellow named Chick Simler; then he disposed of Jimmy Duffy, the rugged New Yorker. Billy De Poe was his next opponent and he showed the way to the Providence "Batter." His last bout was with Charlie Parker and he gave the Boston lightweight a boxing lesson.

There will be three other bouts Saturday afternoon, the first number going on at 7:30 o'clock. There will be two semi-finals, one between Carlo Armstrong and Allen Ryan of Boston, and the other between Frank Molins of Lowell and a local fighter of Lawrence. They will not fight rounds. Kid Hooker and Young McBride will be in the preliminary.

AMERICANS SCORE GOLF VICTORY

MURFIELLS, Golf, June 9.—Two Americans, Nelson Whitney of New Orleans and Robert Gardner of Chicago, survived the third round of the amateur golf championship play yesterday. Samuel J. Graham of Greenwich, Conn., succumbed to MacDonald of Bruntsfield, after having won in the second round over Leslie Ball of Lowell. Blackwell, of 1875, Whitney had been putting rather poorly, but improved in his play with Fletcher of Blackpool in the third round, defeating him four up and two to play.

Gardner had the hardest task among the Americans yesterday. He met in the fourth round the English champion, who has the reputation of being a long driver, but the Scotchman was overpowered by Gardner from 20 to 40 yards in the first nine holes. Gardner made the outward journey in 35 and came home in 31 for 16 holes.

Whitney's win with St. Martin's, Smith, St. George's was of the most important. The latter was prominent international golfer. Whitney played at West Hill, keeping straight and always well up to the hole from the first tee.

The American held the advantage throughout, at the 17th, two up and one to play. Gardner was in rather poor form in the second round against a mediocre player, but he showed his skill at the 15th hole, when he took the lead and won on the home green. His match with Edward Blackwell, of Prestwick, in the third round, was a better calibre. He won 3 up and 2 to play. Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, United States champion, in 1915, who drew a bye in the first round, entered the winning lists by defeating N. Butler, Tron, on the home green after a close match.

JACK LAWLOR AND KLOBY MATCHED

LAWRENCE, June 9.—Jack Lawlor of Omaha, "The Irish Cyclone," will meet Tommy Kloby Corcoran of New York in a 15-round bout at Cuddy Brothers Arena on West street Saturday afternoon, June 15th.

Jack Lawlor made a great hit with the fight fans when he met Johnny Pyle here a week ago Saturday. Lawlor is an aggressive boy who possesses a wicked punch and Kloby will find him a pretty tough boy when he faces him in the ring.

The M.T.I. club is anxious to get the T.I. club to the north of C. and stands ready to arrange a game for any time and at any place.

A. F. OF L. CONVENTION

Irish Sympathizers Today Declared War on League Ratification Program

MONTREAL, June 9.—Irish sympathizers in the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor here today declared war on the League of Nations ratification program recommended by the executive council. They asserted they were against any movement "that binds the American people by solemn obligation to respect and preserve the territorial integrity of Great Britain."

The Irish delegates, headed by Dan Mackillop of Los Angeles, have organized to fight the executive council's proposal that the federation call upon congress to ratify the league without reservation.

"Ireland's hopes for a republic go unimpaired, if the league is ratified," said Mackillop. "Irishmen can never approve a covenant that denies the small nations of the world the right of self-determination."

The National Federation of Federal Employees asked the convention to call upon congress to "reclassify the civil service and adopt a wage scale commensurate with the skill, training and responsibility involved in the work performed, and with just relation to the increased cost of living."

The convention also has before it a report on profiteering which disclosed that shoes that sold in 1913 for $4 are now sold for $12, while the increase in labor cost has been only 40 cents. Practically the only persons proceeded against under the Lever act were the miners who were seeking relief from the high cost of living, the report added.

James Duncan, vice president, presided today. Mrs. Sarah Conboy of New York, secretary and treasurer of the Textile Workers' organization, announced her candidacy for vice president.

STATE PRISON GUARDS DENY NEGLIGENCE

BOSTON, June 9.—Separate hearings were held yesterday at the state house in connection with the escape of Harry Ward and Master from state prison. Edward J. Hanifan and William J. Crowley, guards on duty the night of the escape, requested the hearings. Hanifan has been discharged and Crowley indefinitely suspended. Both seek reinstatement.

The hearings were held before Commissioner of Corrections Bates and Warden Shattuck. Judge Thomas P. Riley appeared for Hanifan and Daniel J. Lyne for Crowley. The taking of evidence was completed. The attorneys will present their arguments next Tuesday. An interested listener yesterday afternoon was Thomas Mott Osborne, formerly warden of Sing Sing and later commandant of Portsmouth, N. H., naval prison.

Hanifan testified that on hearing a suspicious noise about the time of the escape, he went to the air shaft. He did not fire his revolver into the ventilator, because he had no reason to believe that anyone was inside. On the night in question, Hanifan said, Ward appeared to be sleeping with the bed-clothing over his head.

Says He Was Alert

In answer to his counsel's questions Hanifan declared that he was alert in consequence of information previously received that there was a possibility that Barney and Master were plotting an escape. He disputed the statement of one of his own witnesses, Guard James A. Connelly, that Connelly and he were in a room together at the time of the escape.

Judge Riley endeavored to show that it took Master no more than one minute to unlock the door of his cell and no more than 15 minutes for him and the others to get to the roof of the wing extension. That, he said, was sufficient to prove that Hanifan was not guilty of negligence.

On cross-examination by Judge Riley, William Hendry, deputy warden, admitted Barney and Ward had been placed in adjoining cells. He said he saw no risk in allowing them together and denied that they had ever appeared on friendly terms. He told of warning Hanifan to watch the men closely, as he had heard rumors they would attempt to get away. He considered the cell which Master occupied the strongest in the prison.

"All I can say is," commented Judge Riley, "that it was a rotten place to try to keep Barney and Ward and a rotten place to try to keep Master."

The charge against Crowley was that he had failed to fire his revolver when he saw the men on the roof. In examination by Attorney Lyne the statement was made by Crowley that he was the last man notified of the escape and the first man to reach the outside in an attempt to overtake the prisoners.

Crowley said when he saw the men on the roof he did not discharge his revolver because he did not believe it would be effective at such a distance. He thought it would not carry 150 feet. Furthermore, he was not certain whether the men on the roof were guards or prisoners. He also felt, he said, that if he discharged his revolver in the air he would be wasting ammunition that he might need if he encountered the men at closer range.

Attorney Lyne produced the revolver carried by Crowley and said he had written opinion of the manufacturers that it would not carry more than 15 feet.

Crowley said he had been a guard at Deer Island and that on one occasion he fired at an escapee prisoner only to find that the shot merely accelerated the speed of the fleeing fugitive.

Crowley, who was the only witness said he had asked to be given duty but had been refused. He declared Warden Shattuck said he (Shattuck) would resign first. Warden Shattuck denied this and said he explained to Crowley that promotions were regulated by seniority of service and that there would be no effect of wardens or deputies if there was no regulation of prison management.

BOARD REVOKES POOL ROOM LICENSE

At the regular weekly meeting of the license commission last night the pool room license of John H. Rocha of Central street was revoked after the special police officers testified as to the gambling which was detected on his premises. As a result of a raid on the room a short while ago 15 young men were arrested and fined in court for gambling. The manager of the pool room claimed that the gambling took place in the cellar where he had no control.

Licensees to sell ice cream on the Lord's day were granted to John Dagim, 222 Suffolk street; Bridget A. Monahan, 43 Agawam street; Mariella Lester, 4 Chase street; Stanley Urvien, 135 Gorham street; Frank Urvien, 90 Lakeview avenue; D. C. Coney, 185 Sayles street; William H. McMahon, 18 Butler avenue. Permits for hawkers and peddlers granted to: Leo O'Connell, 12 rear 54 Columbia street; Henry Connor, 256 Mammoth road; Albert Provencal, 351 Middlesex street; Frank Rodgers, 354 Concord street; John R. Zinkoff, 116 Dunster street and Vassilos Anastasiou, 3 Cross street; for express to Louis Cyr, 765 Merrimack street; C. Frank O'Neill, 73 Chestnut street; Forest Trucking Co., 454 Westmore street; Thomas M. Carroll, 42 Plummer street; for common victualer to: Louis Chait, 3 Aiken avenue; Fred A. Hennessey, 1370 Middlesex street; for lodging houses to Anthony H. Hamcock, 25 Warwick street; Celestine Trudeau, 293 Appleton street; Adelle Robitaille, 281 Bridge street. Permits for junk collectors were granted to R. Bridgeford, 58 Chelmsford street; and for billiards and pool to Christina Cates, 224 Aiken street.

The other permits surrendered were one for common victualer by Thomas Messer, 1370 Middlesex street and billiards and pool, by Richard Ponslin, 224 Aiken street.

MAKE U.S. SAFE PLACE TO SHOP

Atty. Lee Talks on "What Shall America do to Hold Her World Trade?"

Above All "We Should Strive to be Truthful in Our Description of Product"

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 9.—"We should strive to make America known as a safe place in which to shop," declared Richard H. Lee of New York, special counsel of the Associated Advertising Clubs, in discussing "What Shall America do to hold her world trade," at the 16th annual convention of the association here.

"We should meet foreign conditions as far as possible. We should impose no unnecessary change in their present method of conducting their business. Above all, we should strive to be truthful in our description of the product so that there may be no disappointment upon its arrival."

"Through the medium of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World foreign nations have come to know America as the land of truth-in-advertising. Very shortly better business bureaus will be established in South America, Australia and Great Britain. Through these bureaus we may keep an accurate check on the conduct of American merchants and, when that conduct is not in keeping with the work which American business is supporting in this country, we shall bring the matter to the attention of the American public that they may mark the man who, through his misconduct, is destroying the good name of America and the opportunity of our merchants in the foreign field."

Mr. Lee described specific instances in which misleading or fraudulent advertising had been stopped overseas.

Mrs. Frederick Speaks

Dealing with advertising from a woman's point of view, Mrs. Christine Frederick of New York city, suggested a campaign to advertise advertising to the consumers and she quoted statistics to show that most of these consumers are women.

"Women have universally responded to advertising," said Mrs. Frederick. "But they are as yet unconscious or uninformed, as a class regarding the economic function of advertising. You, who are publicity experts, have never yet let the light of publicity glare on your own acts."

Mrs. Frederick suggested the preparation of an unacademic booklet informing the consumer of the economic advantages of the advertised product with charts showing that advertising reduces living costs and lectures to create good will for advertising on the part of the public.

Come Mad on Pretty Model

"There is need of a woman's viewpoint in the actual handling of advertising copy of many products used in the home," continued Mrs. Frederick. "The plain woman consumer wants real facts and common sense and you must not antagonize her psychology. Do not show me pictures of women painting pantry shelves attired in evening gowns or using a washing machine in a reception dress. You have the wrong feminine psychology when you show a picture of the goods being used by a prettier woman than I am. Like the cats we are we say to ourselves, that if this impossible French doll were to tuck up her clothes and actually use the device upon which she is leaning, she would lose her frozen smile. You advertisers have gone mad on the pretty girl model, the artificial, manicured mannikin. I make a plea for the genuine homely human model who looks more like the woman who really buys your goods."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Lynch of Alken street and Mr. Frank Lynch of Fort Hill avenue have returned from a pleasant automobile trip to Buffalo New York.

Mrs. Frank E. Knowles of 241 Gibson street, Miss Marion M. Ballou of Rogers Hall, and Mrs. Josephine Taggart Fiske of 235 Wilder street, alumnae of Mount Holyoke college, will attend the commencement exercises at Mount Holyoke college tomorrow.

Among the Lowell girls graduated from Massachusetts colleges and schools yesterday were: Vassar, Miss Natalie S. Barron; Lowell, Miss Margaret C. Perley; Dana Hall, Miss Katharine H. White; East Nazareth college, Miss Gladys O. MacDonald; and Miss Catherine M. Sullivan.

The Martin Luthers will hold their annual outing tomorrow at the camp grounds in Tyngsboro. Some of the picnickers will leave the city by automobile at 12 o'clock, with others following in special electric at 12:15. A ball game and other athletic sports and also a dinner are included in the outing program.

"No Trespassing," by Evelyn Gray Whiting, is the play to be presented in Colonial hall Friday evening of this week by the Girls' Community club. A dress rehearsal last evening put on the finishing touches to a performance which will be the best theatrical effort ever made by the girls of the club and as a great deal of interest in the production has been shown a capacity audience is expected. As a feature Dora and Marie Dextre will appear in fancy dances.

The monthly meeting of the Fletcher class was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Martha Barron, 1311 Middlesex street. The business proceedings, conducted by Mrs. Emma Christian, the president, dealt mainly with plans for the future. Mrs. John Butcher, as treasurer, reported a balance of $31 in the treasury and a sum of $85 given to the church building fund in the past year. After the business Mrs. Adelaide Noyes read several selections and Miss Grace Butcher played the piano. Mrs. Butcher, Miss Anna Leach, and Miss Elizabeth Cunningham assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

A number of friends of the commercial department of the United States Cartridge company surprised Miss Catherine Monahan of North Billerica last evening in the Chinese restaurant in Merrimack street and tendered her a silver shower and supper. The affair was in honor of her coming marriage with Thomas Cryan of this city and was made very entertaining with a varied program. For the 30 or more friends present Miss Margaret Lihane presented her with a chest of community silver, and Miss Monahan replied in fitting language. After the supper the following entertained: Miss Anna Lowner, Miss Elvira Dahlstrom, Miss Alice Tweed, Miss Mary Finnegan and Miss Elizabeth Ellis. Miss Margaret Lihane, Mrs. Mary Sharkey and Miss Frances Kilvan were in charge.

FUNERALS

LYNN—The funeral services of Miss Lizzie E. Lynn were held at her home, 5 Durant street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational church, and Rev. Arthur W. Shaw, assistant pastor of St. Anne's Episcopal church, officiating. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Burial will be in the family lot in Lyndon Centre cemetery, Lyndonville, Vt. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

McDONOUGH—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. McDonough took place this morning at 8:30 from her late home, 93 Prince street and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock Rev. Joseph Curtin celebrated a funeral high mass. The church choir sang the Gregorian chant, solos being sung by Miss Alice Murphy and Mr. Edward F. Slattery, Jr. Mr. M. Johnson was the organist. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Joseph Curtin read the burial service. The bearers were Misses John Kennedy, John Mahoney, John Lyons, Edward Foye, Joseph Mahoney and Joseph Clark. There were many beautiful floral tributes placed on the grave. The funeral was in charge of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy's Sons.

50 SEAMEN MISSING

Explosion Wrecks Steamer at Kobe, Japan—City Rocked

—U. S. Ship Damaged

KOBE, Japan, June 8. (By Associated Press)—Fifty Japanese seamen are missing and shipping in this harbor has been seriously damaged by an explosion of gasoline on the steamer Miraku Maru today. The explosion shook the city like an earthquake.

The Miraku Maru was destroyed and the fire spread to a score of gasoline-laden junks, which drifted blazing out to sea, their crews shouting for help.

Several large steamers were in port, including the Siberia Maru and the Tenyo Maru which steamed out of the harbor in time to evade the flames. The American steamer Wytheville which is here after a voyage from New York had one mast burned.

One million gallons of gasoline originally shipped from America to Vladivostok for the Kolchak government has been returned here.

GAMING MACHINES

TAKEN BY POLICE

Inspectors Cooney, Moore, Clark and Winn empowered by a search warrant, visited the home of H. C. Locke on Pyno street last night and seized 16 gaming machines. The police say that Locke is the agent for the machines in this section and has acted as distributing agent for Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill. Each machine is valued in the vicinity of $30. They are made similar to the ball game machines which are known to all, but each of the balls is wrapped in tin foil inside of which there is a number. When one of the containers is full there are about 1000 balls, but out of that number there are only five or six prize numbers.

Inspectors also got a similar machine in a lunch car in Moody street, and on Chelmsford street they seized three gaming machines and a punch board, the property of Joseph Miller. The inspectors have clues as to the whereabouts of such machines which are working throughout the city and have laid plans for further cleanups.

FUNERAL NOTICES

VAISES—The funeral of John Vaise will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of C. H. Molloy's Sons. Burial will be in the Westlawn cemetery. Undertaker C. H. Molloy's Sons in charge of funeral.

McINTOSH—The funeral of Cormack McIntosh will take place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from his home, 27 Hampshire street. A solemn high funeral mass will be sung at St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Motor cortege. Please omit flowers. Arrangements in charge of Undertakers Jas. E. O'Donnell & Sons.

REQUIEM MASSES

CASSIDY—There will be a high mass of requiem at St. Patrick's church for Mrs. Della Cassidy at 8 o'clock Saturday, June 12.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all those friends and neighbors for their words of sympathy and kindness and flowers sent at the time of our great bereavement in the loss of our dear sister and aunt. We shall always remember your kindness.

MISS HELEN K. BROWNE, Mrs. and Mrs. J. D. BROWNE, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. PARK.

POLICE VACATIONS

The police vacations began on the first of June when eight officers were released from duty for their annual two weeks' vacation. These policemen who are due back at the police station on the 14th are Officers Castles, O'Sullivan, Conroy, Lapan, Molloy, Roarke, Peering and Flaherty. Upon their return, the next lot will leave the station for two weeks on June 16, to return on June 30. Those scheduled to leave on the 16th are Officers Garlity, J. R. McNally, J. H. Donovan, O'Connell, Flanagan, McCann, Clancy and Ealy.

NOTICE

I wish to announce that I am again able to personally attend to my business after being confined for the past month at the Lowell General Hospital.

UNDERTAKER GEORGE W. HEALEY

FATHER OF KIDNAPPED

BABY VERY ILL

CONSULATE HERE

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 8.—George H. Coughlin, father of 12-months-old Blakeley Coughlin, who was kidnapped last Wednesday, collapsed yesterday and physicians said last night his condition was serious. Mrs. Coughlin also is under the care of physicians, though not confined to bed.

More than 30 letters demanding ransom for the return of the baby have been received by the Coughlins. All but three of them, it was said last night, have been eliminated as fakes, and of these three, Major Charles T. Larzelere, attorney for the family, said it was hard to determine which, if any, is bona fide.

"It is reasonably certain," said Major Larzelere, "that one of the letters was written by the kidnappers following the insertion in the newspapers that we were willing to pay $5000 ransom and guarantee the abductors immunity if Blakeley were returned unharmed. The kidnappers have not complied with our demand for proof. They have sent neither the nightgown worn by Blakeley nor a photograph of him. Today we decided to modify the requirements by accepting a film rather than a developed print."

"We are concerned only with the return of the baby. If the kidnappers get in touch with us, we give our word of honor that neither the police nor the newspapers will be advised. The arrest of the abductors means nothing to us."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William M. Thompson and Miss E. Minnie Tucker were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tucker, 36 Orleans street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. James M. Craig. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Tucker. After a honeymoon trip through Canada the couple will make their home at 51 Orleans street.

Resuelle-Knowles

Mr. Lucien R. Brunelle and Miss Grace A. Knowles were married yesterday afternoon at St. Columba's rectory, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Hally. The bride was attired in white crepe de chine with lace trimmings; she wore a bridal veil caught up with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Marietta Brunelle, who wore pink organdie with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. James M. Knowles of New York, a brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride, 11 Fourth avenue. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Brunelle will make their home at 535 Moody st.

Novak-Ayotte

The marriage of Mr. John Novak and Miss Melinda Ayotte took place yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I. The bride wore white georgette and satin and carried white roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. J. Ayotte, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Paul Novak. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents, 419 Moody street and in the evening a reception was held at the same address. Mr. and Mrs. Novak will make their home at 545 Moody st.

Teague-Griffith

Mr. Francis Teague and Miss Blanche S. Griffiths were married yesterday at the home of the bride, 219 Gates street by Rev. J. M. Craig. Mrs. George McElroy acted as matron at the ceremony. The bride wore white georgette crepe with pearl trimmings and carried lilies of the valley and orchids. The matron was attired in blue georgette and carried pink sweet peas. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl and amethyst pin, while the bride's favor to the matron was a gold bar set with pearls. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held, followed by a wedding dinner and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York and upon their return they will make their home at 49 Gates street.

Collins-Craig

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place this morning at the immaculate Conception rectory, when Mr. Wallace R. Collins, a world war veteran of Lynn, and Miss Margaret V. Craig, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Craig of 59 Porter street, this city, and a popular young lady, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a high nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of the rectory at 8 o'clock by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by Mr. William Gookin, Mr. James King and Miss Florence Nicholson. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played on the organ by Miss Minnie Davey. The bride was handsomely attired in white crepe georgette and satin with pearl embroidery; she wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Mullen, a niece of the bride, who wore a flesh crepe georgette with picture hat to match and carried Killarney roses. The best man was Mr. George McKenney of Somerville, an overseas companion of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of gold beads, while the bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a string of pearl beads. The groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where a wedding breakfast was served, followed by a brief reception. Mr. and Mrs. Collins left later in the day on an extended wedding trip through the state of Maine, and after July 1 they will be at home to their friends in Lynn.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE HAS BEEN USED in This Family More Than 20 Years

Doctor Recommended it When Oldest Boy Had Pneumonia as a Child—Same Boy Went Through the War With U. S. Marines. All the Family Depend on Father John's Medicine for Health and Strength

The father of this splendid family, Joseph A. Martin, of Columbus, Ohio, in a recent letter says: "I have been using Father John's Medicine in my family for over twenty years. I first came to use it after my oldest son had pneumonia at the age of three years, and the doctor recommended it to build up his system and it did all it claimed to do as the same boy enlisted in the U. S. Marines and went through the late war. He just got back from 'Over There' and that shows he is in pretty good health. We have a bottle of Father John's Medicine in the house all of the time and would not be without it, as I think it is the best medicine for coughs and colds we ever used."

COAST ARTILLERY

CORPS VACANCIES

There are vacancies for 60 men in the "Flash, Sound and Ground ranging sections of the Coast Artillery corps at Camp Eustis, Va. Men enlisting for this section will be given the opportunity to work elsewhere during maneuvers and using of big guns. Men who desire to qualify for commissions or as master gunners and men who have received a fundamental training in scientific subjects are especially desired. But on the other hand, men who join this service have an excellent chance to learn mathematics and science. Instruction is to be given in the following subjects: map reading, surveying, drafting, analysis of aerial photographs, motor mechanics, telephony, radio telegraphy, radio telephony, line work, care and operation of special optical and electrical equipment. Information for this interesting function of the C.A.C. will be furnished upon request by the commanding officer of the Flash, Sound and Ground ranging section, Camp Eustis, Va., or by the local recruiting officer.

FELL ON SIDEWALK

Thomas Nastosola, a resident of Boston, fell on the sidewalk in front of the Saco-Lowell shops in Dutton street this forenoon and received a bad cut on the hand. The ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital.

Infant Among Victims—Flagman Says Engineer Ignored Red Light

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., June 9.—Eleven persons were killed and 21 injured today when a train of express cars crashed into the rear end of a passenger train which had stopped about two miles from Schenectady because of engine trouble.

All but one of those killed were asleep in two Pullmans at the rear of the passenger train. Martin Doyle of Albany, engineer of the express, died at his post, one hand being fast to the throttle when his body was found in the wreckage.

The passengers killed were: Mrs. Watson H. Bowne, Utica, N. Y., her 12-year-old grandson, Daniel Crouse, and her 20 months old granddaughter, Marion Crouse and John J. Kenney, of Utica.

Five unidentified men and one unidentified woman.

Nellis McCrouse, father of the child.

HOUSE THIEVES VISIT ANDREWS STREET

The homes of Joseph Sabourin and Martin Pinley, both of 115 Andrews street, were entered and robbed yesterday afternoon, presumably by key workers, yesterday morning by key workers. At the time, there was no one in the house and none of the neighbors say anyone prowling about. In the downstairs flat, the home of Sabourin, a Liberty bond and some money were taken, and the house was thoroughly upset. Sabourin is a barber by occupation, but a short time ago he worked in the Cartridge shop and while there he bought a Liberty bond. The officials of the Cartridge company will give the number of the bond to the police and thus the apprehension of the robber or thieves is expected. In the upstairs tenement, rented by Martin Pinley, $65 in money, two watches, one ring, a suit of clothes and other articles were taken. Here, also, the thieves searched thoroughly but obtained most of their loot in a dresser in a bedroom.

Mayor Thompson Says Supplementary Municipal Budget Will be Necessary

Present indications point with almost absolute certainty to the necessity of a supplementary municipal budget to piece out the appropriations made by the municipal council last March for the year 1920. It was increases and other departmental expenditures now contemplated are realized.

When queried on the matter today, Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who has taken a prominent part in shaping the financial course of the city since he has been in office, said that it looked very much as though a supplemental budget would be necessary. The development which has brought the situation to a head has been the statement of Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy that he would recommend an increase to $5 per day for laborers of the street department, beginning July 1. This, alone, will cost some $37,000, and there is every reason to believe that if the laborers of the street department receive an increase, those of other municipal departments will feel themselves entitled to similar consideration.

During the past week or so agitation for increases in clerks' salaries has also attained vigor at city hall and with the announcement that the street department laborers' wages were to be increased the movement gained added momentum. Several departments are also eating up their original appropriations at a rapid pace and will undoubtedly find the supplementary budget a welcome avenue of relief from financial stringency toward the closing months of the year.

ORDER RECEIVERS TO TURN OVER ROADS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—The superior court here today decreed that the properties of the Providence & Danvers Railroad Co., and of the Sea View Railroad Co., operating between East Greenwich and Narragansett Pier, shall be turned over by the receivers of the Rhode Island Co. to the owners of these lines on Sept. 7. The receivers told the court that these two leased lines had been operated at a loss, and they did not care to burden the Rhode Island Co. with their maintenance.

TO FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

Plan to Open Drive Against Tuberculosis in Lowell and Vicinity

One of the most important steps taken in some time to fight tuberculosis in Lowell and surrounding towns of northern Middlesex county was taken today when Frederic Edwards, educational secretary of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis league, conferred with local health department authorities and members of the Anti-Tuberculosis council of this city in a preliminary effort to organize the upper half of the county in a drive against the dread disease. Mr. Edwards was in conference with Agent Francis J. O'Hara of the local health department for some time this morning and also talked with nurses employed by the department.

The Massachusetts Tuberculosis league is financed solely from receipts coming from the sale of Red Cross seals at Christmas time. It is at present concentrating its efforts in searching out incipient cases of tuberculosis so that treatment may be given persons suffering from it just as soon as possible.

Mr. Edwards said this noon that the person who has tuberculosis but who doesn't know it is the greatest menace with which the anti-tuberculosis authorities have to deal, for he mingles promiscuously and thus endangers other people.

By organizing the work of the league in Massachusetts into county units in

900 FALL RIVER STORE CLERKS ON STRIKE

FALL RIVER, June 9.—Clerks employed in a majority of the retail stores here went on strike at noon today when the merchants refused to grant their demand for a Wednesday half-holiday throughout the year. Previously they had the half-holiday during July and August.

More than 900 walked out, according to reports from union headquarters. In the largest department store in the city, only the office force remained on duty. All the other large stores were crippled though none closed its doors. Six of the smaller stores have granted the clerks' demand. There was no disorder.

Strike at Biddeford

BIDDEFORD, Me., June 9.—Clerks in the leading grocery stores of the city went on strike this afternoon to enforce a demand for the continuance of the Wednesday afternoon half-holiday through the summer. Some proprietors of grocery stores acceded to the demands of their clerks this morning and closed for the afternoon, announcing, however, that unless all closed another Wednesday they would remain open. Only grocery stores were affected.

Says Country Needs Experienced Statesman in White House

CHICAGO, June 9.—The republican national convention was in session only an hour today and devoted itself entirely to routine preliminaries. The temporary organization was made permanent and the report of the credentials committee was approved with the changes made last night, some of which reversed previous decisions of the national committee.

For its second day sensation, the convention heard a woman speaker, Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter of Kansas, the first woman to address a national convention.

The platform committee was not

TREATY RATIFICATION TO BE MAIN PLANK IN DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—A declaration in favor of ratification of the treaty of Versailles will be the main plank in the democratic platform, according to Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the democratic national committee, who arrived here last night, to prepare for the democratic national convention.

"What other big, constructive planks will be built into the platform is not for me to say at this time," he said.

LEAGUE PLANK BIG PROBLEM

Special Sub-Committee of 13 Takes up Hardest "Nut" of Platform

Full Committee Meets Labor and Irish Leaders—New Rows Threatened

CHICAGO, June 9.—The League of Nations plank still was undefined today, 24 hours before the republican platform was to be presented to the national convention.

Members of the sub-committee of 13, when they went into session to smooth out the remaining platform troubles, expressed confidence that they could agree, but all of them were somewhat hazy on how it was to be done.

Senator Watson of Indiana, head of the sub-committee, maintained that in the end the Indiana plank, with some modifications, would get the support of all republican elements. Senators Borah of Idaho and McCormick of Illinois, thought there would have to be material modifications to pacify the ir-reconcilables. The mild reservation group also wanted changes, but in the opposite direction.

Bolstering the predictions of an agreement, however, was a feeling in many quarters that the league question must not be permitted to reach the convention floor, where everyone realized it might set off fireworks of a destructive nature.

Aside from the treaty issue, most of

AUTO ACCIDENT CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

Racing jitneys were responsible for an accident in which Agnes Delaney of Lowell was seriously injured on Oct. 13, 1918, on the boulevard between Lowell and Lawrence, according to a statement made to the jury by James E. O'Donnell, counsel for Mrs. Delaney, in her suit against Annie Verid, jitney owner, to recover damages for her injuries, on trial before Judge Fosdick in the superior court today.

Mrs. Delaney, on the witness stand, testified that she had just left a trolley car when she was struck by an auto belonging to the defendant. She said that she had taken only a single step from the car when she was struck and that she did not have time to turn her head to look in the direction of the jitney, which she said she knew was approaching. She told of her removal to St. John's hospital and of her later experiences after removal to her home.

Patrick Keegan, a jitney operator, told on the stand of leaving Paige street, Lowell, a few seconds behind the Verid car that was driven by Michael Tanous. Both cars were loaded to capacity, it was stated. As his car was going up a hill on First street, witness said he passed the Verid car, which a little farther along in turn went by him. He said that the speed of the Verid machine was at the rate of 25 to 30 miles an hour. According to the witness, the night was a "dangerous" one for driving.

A physician testified regarding the injuries to Mrs. Delaney, which he said consisted of a bruise on the head, numerous large black and blue spots, a laceration on the arm in which several stitches were taken and, he believed, torn ligaments on the left ankle. The witness said the effects of injuries, such as those suffered by Mrs. Delaney, might last for two or three years.

Mr. Gompers vigorously denounced certain provisions of both the Esch-Cummings railroad bill and the Kansas law as attempts to take from "laboring people the right of ownership to themselves" and added that strikes could not be prevented in this way.

"Even in slavery days," he said, "slaves took a chance and whether laws are passed making strikes unlawful or not, you are not going to stop strikes. You are not going to prevent men from having hopes and aspirations of a brighter and better day. This is not a threat, it is a statement of fact."

PLACING GIRDERS FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Twelve steel girders with their cross pieces that will form a small part of the framework of the new high school auditorium in Kirk street are already in place and are the first actual indication of the massive building that will later rise from the concrete foundation, a large part of which has already been constructed.

For the past three or four winters the steel has been lying idle on the high school site, weathering all sorts of storms, but at last it is performing its destined mission of becoming a part of the new building. Contractor Daniel H. Walker has practically completed the outer foundation walls along the Kirk street side of the building and a large number of laborers are now working along the French street side.

NEW RECORDS IN HIGH COST OF DELEGATES

BY GIBSON GARDNER
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, June 8.—New records in the high cost of delegates have been set by the 1920 G. O. P. convention. Vote-buying has also become more public. Popular sentiment toward the practice is evidently more cynical.

Never was so much money spent on a pre-convention campaign. Election costs have run into the millions. The first campaign run by Mark Hanna, the McKinley-Bryan free silver campaign of 1896, cost about four millions. That was regarded as an "orgy of political corruption." The campaign run by George B. Cortelyou for Roosevelt in 1900 cost less than two million dollars. No pre-convention campaign ever before touched the million dollar mark. Such campaigns cost something. They have to be "financed." Halls have to be hired, railroad fare and the hotel expenses of speakers and organizers paid, advertising, printing, and such expenses have to be met. But these things have, in the past, been met in part by local organizations, and never have been large.

500 Delegates Cost $2,400,000.
The purchase of Missouri votes by Lowden at $2,500 does not indicate the real market price of votes. On the basis of $400,000 spent by the Lowden managers (see testimony before senate committee) and the claim of 80 votes pledged, his votes cost about $5,000 apiece.
The Wood votes have cost more.

Conservatively figured they have cost about $11,500 apiece—the 155 pledged. The Johnson people admit spending (including California), $200,000. They claim 115 pledged delegates, which would make the cost of each delegate about $1,750. This, the Johnson managers would claim, has been spent on primaries, not on vote buying, or the purchase of local political bosses "who can deliver their delegations."

If 350 "pledged" delegates cost $2,400,000, or $6,850 apiece, how much would a majority of the convention's delegates cost? Answer, about $4,600,000. And, if the convention were unanimous? About nine million dollars!

All Are Sore at Misnomer

Practically what will be the effect of the exposure of the "ratunalia of pre-convention corruption?"

First, of course, it makes the big bosses tired to have it turned out officially by a senate committee and they are inclined to blame Johnson for "instigating" Borah to this "unfriendly" act.

Second, it dampens the enthusiasm—the popular noise-making enthusiasm—for the Wood and Lowden candidacies.

Third, it suggests difficulties at the elections if one of the "buying" candidates is named.

Fourth, it increases the prospect that the "big five" will sit behind closed doors and rule out the present favorites and elect that only a "dark horse"—like Charles E. Hughes—can wipe the slate clean and start the race free of the handicaps of scandal and bitterness.

MORE AUTOMOBILISTS IN MISSIONARY SOCIETY POLICE COURT HOLDS MEETING

Leslie E. Sutton, Frank Burke, Emil Demers, Roger K. Eastman, Anthony Vactor and Oscar Galawa, were arraigned in police court today, charged with failing to stop on a cross street and to give the necessary signal. One was arrested at Smith and Westford streets and the other five on East Merrimack street. All six pleaded nolo. To avoid the necessity of making a criminal record against the men, the judge gave them a warning and put the cases on file. In the future he said that the offenders must take the consequences.

Anthony Spinney was charged with driving his team in the wrong direction on a one-way street on May 30. His case was put on file.

Joseph H. Conlon, charged with the larceny of a check to the value of $49 from the person of Arthur J. Connolly, was found not guilty.

RECESS APPOINTMENTS BY PRES. WILSON

WASHINGTON, June 8.—President Wilson today made recess appointments of Henry Jones Ford of New Jersey; Mark W. Potter of New York; and James Duncan of Quincy, Mass., to be members of the Interstate commerce commission.

Marston Taylor Bogert of New York and Samuel W. McCull of Massachusetts were named members of the United States tariff commission.

Nicholas Kelley of New York was appointed assistant secretary of the treasury.

COMMUNITY CLUB

Exhibition of Girls' Work in Domestic Science Classes

An exhibition of work accomplished by the girls of the Community club in their domestic science classes since last October will be formally opened in the club rooms in the Runels building tomorrow evening by Hugh J. Molloy, president of Lowell Community Service, Inc.

On display will be many articles made in the dressmaking, millinery and embroidery classes and as the work is uncommonly good it is believed the general public will be interested enough to attend. In addition to the opening tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, the exhibition also will be open to the public on Friday afternoon and evening.

The class instructors are: Dressmaking, Miss Eleanor Kiellin; millinery, Miss Mary Kelley; embroidery, Miss Madelyn Hartigan.

Summer Camp Opens

The first group of club girls will go to the new summer camp at Riverhurst, Ripterica, over the coming week-end, in charge of Miss Bailey, assistant recreational director. Reservations for July 4 already are nearly filled, although one or two more can be accommodated if application is made at once.

O'CONNELL TO RETURN TO HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, June 8.—The re-election of Captain Dennis O'Connell of the Harvard university track team was indicated today with his announcement that he would return to college next year. He is now a junior, but with credit for war service could have received his degree this year. O'Connell was a crack mile runner until he sprained an ankle several months ago. The choice of a new supervisor of track athletics to succeed Dr. Charles R. Whelan, whose resignation was announced yesterday, will rest largely with the new captain.

WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—Next year's tournament for the women's eastern golf championship which will be played at Boston will be a 54 hole medal play event instead of 36 holes. This was decided by the association at a meeting here last night following the winning of the 1920 title by Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow, of this city.

The tournament will continue three days and it was announced that Miss Fanny Osmond of Boston has offered a shield for inter-city competition as an added attraction. It will go to the city or state team having the lowest gross total, six cards to count.

Mrs. M. D. Patterson of New York was elected president of the association; Miss E. W. Allen of Boston vice-president; Mrs. C. F. Rowley, Boston, secretary; and Mrs. G. Henry Stetson, of Philadelphia, treasurer.

OPPOSE ACTION ON IRISH QUESTION

WORCESTER, June 8.—The grand commandery of Knights of Malta, for Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut in convention here yesterday, adopted a resolution protesting against the republican national convention "interfering in their platform with the domestic affairs of Great Britain, especially with the Irish claims for independence, because to do so would disturb the friendly relations created by our common sacrifices in the late world war and would be a crime against civilization."

A copy of the resolution was wired to Senator Lodge.

COUSENS HEAD OF TUFTS COLLEGE

NEDFORD, June 8.—The appointment of Acting President John E. Cousens of Tufts college, as permanent president of the institution, was announced by the board of trustees today. Mr. Cousens who was vice-president of a Boston coal company before he became temporary president, succeeded Dr. Herman Carey Bumpus, who resigned last year. The new president was a graduate from Tufts in 1893.

THE LOWELL FISH AND GAME CLUB

The executive committee of the Lowell Fish and Game association held a well attended meeting Monday evening. A number of new members were accepted and it was voted that the association purchase thirty pheasants from the funds now in the treasury for the re-stocking of local game. It is expected that the Massachusetts department of fisheries and game will ship to Lowell in August about as many more for this purpose.

In regard to the matter of the executive board arranging a trip to the game farms and hatcheries of the state an invitation of Director William C. Adams, the board spent much time and consideration and it was finally voted that the matter be postponed for the time at least. In arriving at this conclusion the annual outing figured to some extent as it is now expected that the outing this year will be the largest and best in the history of the association.

The distance to the hatcheries and game farms of the state was another matter that was considered. The problem of getting autos enough to handle the large number of members that would like to make the trip was discussed, and it was deemed wise to postpone the proposition for the present.

The board felt that members of the association can make up parties from time to time and visit these places of interest to sportsmen. They will learn much of interest concerning birds and fish. The annual outing of the association will be held in September, the day and place to be announced later by the executive board, the members of which were elected a committee to make all arrangements.

The number of members to be provided for has much to do with the selection of a place and just how the does are being paid in and the board will soon decide just what the membership number is.

The hatcheries and game farms included in Director Adams' invitation to visit are as follows: Sandwich hatcheries, Sandwich; Palmer hatchery, Sutton; Palmer; Sutton Fish hatchery, Sutton; Montague Rearing station, Montague; Amherst Rearing station, just over the line in the town of Sunderland; Marshfield Bird farm, Marshfield; Wilbraham Game farm, North Wilbraham; Sandwich Bird farm, East Sandwich.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Two Kite Observation Balloons Destroyed

ON BOARD THE U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, June 8.—Lightning struck two kite observation balloons operating with the Atlantic fleet off the Chesapeake Capes tonight. Both the balloons were destroyed, but they were not manned at the time.

Motorcycling Troubles

They are usually mechanical. Mechanical troubles are frequently caused by incorrect lubrication. Give your motorcycle the lubricant it demands and your mechanical troubles will diminish.

Gargoyle Mobiloils as specified by the Vacuum Oil Company's Chart of Recommendations are especially suitable for motorcycles. We have the Chart. Let us supply you a gallon can of the correct grade.

POLES SMASH ON IN COUNTER OFFENSIVE

WARSAW, June 8.—The Polish counter offensive against the Bolsheviks between the Dvina and Upper Beresina under General Pilsudski, president of the republic, is developing favorably according to a statement issued by the general staff today. The Poles have annihilated the third and 12th Bolshevik divisions and have occupied Czerniewa and Plesna, 25 miles southwest of Dvina, with heavy losses to the Bolsheviks.

Coach Split to Pieces

dren, who were killed, was severely injured as was also another young daughter.
The express, a Michigan Central special, with 10 cars carrying express matter, disregarded signals and went at high speed into the New York Central passenger train bound from Buffalo to New York, according to the story of C. Robinson, brakeman of the passenger train. He said he waved a red lantern in vain and finally threw it into the cab as the express dashed by.
The Pullman at the rear of the train had 12 passengers and was demolished. Its passengers were bound for New York. Next to it was a Pullman with 22 passengers destined for Boston. The other cars of the passenger train were day coaches and baggage and mail cars.

Flagman Makes Statement

The rear car of the passenger train was split to pieces by the impact. The train had stopped in an open field between Glenville and Scotia, near here, because of a defective water pipe in the engine. C. Robinson, flagman on the train, told the Associated Press the following version of the accident:
"I went back 30 car lengths and saw No. 34 coming toward me. I stayed in the middle of the track as long as I dared. She kept coming and did not blow her whistle. I waved my red lantern and threw the red fuse into the cab as it whizzed by, but I didn't see the smash and didn't hear it because the wind was blowing from me toward the wreck. The train was making speed when she passed me. I wasn't asleep when our train stopped, because I was on the watch. We were lying here about three or four minutes because of a pipe blow out in the engine."

Fireman Lumped from Cab

Just before the crash came the fireman on No. 34 leaped from his cab and escaped serious injury, but Doyle, the engineer, was placed under the wreckage and was in a dying condition when he was extricated. Rescuers said his head had to be pried from his throat. He died as he was being placed on a stretcher.
Twelve persons were asleep in the rear Pullman which was completely split by the on-rushing engine and 22 were sleeping in the second Pullman. None of the passengers in the day coach, just ahead, was killed and few of them are said to be seriously injured.

Springfield Girl Injured

SPRINGFIELD, June 8.—Miss Eunice Clark, among the injured in the New York Central wreck at Schenectady, is the daughter of Seth H. Clark of this city, assistant superintendent of the Boston & Albany railroad. She is a student at Syracuse university, and was on her way to this city.
The Frank Watson listed as injured is professor of biology at Hobart college, Geneva, N. Y. He was on his way home for a vacation.

To Fight White Plague

stead of individual anti-tuberculosis councils in innumerable cities and towns, the officials of the league believe that much more effective work can be accomplished than is now the case. Four counties have already been organized, two more are about to begin work and three counties, Middlesex, Essex and Worcester are so large that they will be divided into two parts.
It is planned to make Lowell the centre of the work in northern Middlesex county and either Waltham or Cambridge the centre of the southern end of the county.

During the next few days Mr. Edwards will visit the various towns making up the northern half of the county, and if he finds sentiment among the health authorities and organizations agreeable, a general meeting will be called at which an organization will be effected. At that meeting will be determined whether the funds the people of Lowell and surrounding towns contributed last winter for Christmas seals shall be pooled to carry on the work of the entire upper half of the county or whether each community shall maintain its own finances.
The Massachusetts Tuberculosis

league will furnish publicity for the campaign if the organization is effected, will have nurses to search out incident cases and in co-operation with the state department of health will establish clinical areas where examinations may be made.
Mr. Edwards has found ready co-operation in Lowell on the part of the various health organizations and if the same is true in the surrounding towns, very potent machinery will be set in motion to fight the white plague.

2 KILLED AND 30 INJURED IN SEVERE WIND STORM

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 8.—At least two persons were killed, 30 or more injured and heavy property damage resulted from a severe wind and electrical storm which swept northern Minnesota and parts of eastern North Dakota last night.

PAPERS PASSED IN BASCOM BLOCK SALE

The final papers in the transfer of the Bascom block in Merrimack street from Mrs. Laura E. Richardson to Miss Rose G. Calver, have been signed. This transaction includes property assessed for over $75,000.

The Bascom block is a four-story brick structure at 190-192 Merrimack street with two stores on the street floor, offices on the second and rooms on the third and fourth. The building is assessed for $21,000, while the land, the area of which is 5500 sq. ft., is taxed for $55,000, making a total valuation of $76,000.

RESIGNATION OF ITALIAN CABINET

ROME, June 8.—Premier Nitti announced in the chamber of deputies today that the cabinet had resigned.

A Rome despatch of June 2, quoted the Giornale d'Italia as saying that confirmation had been received of a wish on the part of former Premier Orlando to abandon his position as president of the chamber of deputies. Signor Orlando, the newspaper added, desired to return to his seat as a deputy in the chamber and again participate in active political life.

QUIET AT GALVESTON, TEXAS

GALVESTON, Tex., June 8.—The dock strike situation here continued quiet today with freight congestion showing further improvements. No arrests have been reported since martial law went into effect Monday. Authority of civil officials has not been interested with the militia containing their activities to guard duty on the wharves.

ONE AMERICAN SERIVES

MURFIELD, Scotland, June 8.—Robert A. Gardner of the Hinsdale Golf club of Chicago, twice national title holder in the United States, is the only survivor of the American golfers who entered the contest for the British amateur golf championship here. In the fourth round today, Gardner defeated Jack MacIntyre of Cardross 4 and 2.
Nelson M. Whitney of the Audubon Golf club of New Orleans, the only other representative of the United States Golf association to reach the fourth round, succumbed today in his match with Gordon Lockhart of Prestwick the Scotsman winning by 2 and 1.

CENSUS RETURNS

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Returns announced today include:
Saginaw, Mich., 61,993, increase 11,393, or 23.6 per cent.
Chillicothe, Mo., 6525, increase 268, or 4.2 per cent.

CONVENTION "FUNNIES"

Will Rogers "Cracks" a Few Jokes at the Expense of the G. O. P.

BY WILL ROGERS
(Famous Oklahoma Cowboy Wit)
I am being paid to write something funny about this republican convention. That's funny.

All a fellow has to do to write something funny on a republican convention is just write what happened.

Chauncey Depew and I were about the last to decide to write. Chauncey has the advantage of me. He knows his jokes are good 'cause he has told them for years.

The convention is starting out with a big setback. A carload of champagne from California billed for Chicago for medicinal purposes was held up.

In the first place the convention is to be held in Chicago. Chicago is located just north of the United States. I am well acquainted with the American consul there.

Chicago holds the record for murders and robberies and republican conventions.

The republicans had to hold their convention either in Chicago or New York this year as no other city was big enough to hold all their candidates.

Mexico don't know how to get rid of Villa. Loan him to us for a vice-president. That would get both nations rid of him.

If the republicans split as they did eight years ago everybody better start preparing to be kept out of another war.

They don't know whether to seat the colored delegates or not. If they do it will be far back near the door.

To show you true democracy will rule the convention, the first thing they did was to throw out two delegates the people had elected.

The democrats are investigating the republican slush funds and if they find where it's coming from they want theirs.

G. O. P. Convention

rations of opinion as to what it should say.

WOOD MEN ELATED OVER FIRST VICTORY

CHICAGO, June 8.—The Wood forces were elated last night, although the general trend of talk among old-line political leaders is toward Lowden. The Wood men won a victory in the principal business transacted.

Instructed Wood delegates won the two most important convention chairships—Senator Watson of Indiana for resolutions and Edward Duffield of New Jersey for credentials.

Frank H. Hitchcock was designated by the Wood delegates as their supreme strategist.

WORKED ALL NIGHT HEARING APPEALS

CHICAGO, June 8.—Working all night at forced draft speed, the credentials committee completed the permanent roll of the republican national committee at 4:30 this morning. Previous rulings on contests by the national committee were sustained in all but three cases.

103 Appeals Disposed Of

In disposing of 103 appeals from the decisions made last week by the national committee, two delegates were taken from Gov. Lowden—one in Georgia and one in Tennessee, and given to Gen. Wood, but in the fifth Missouri (Kansas City) district, where the national committee refused to seat anyone, the credentials committee, seated two Lowden men, leaving the standing of the two candidates unchanged.

The permanent roll will be ready for presentation to the convention when it meets at 11 o'clock this morning.

National Committee Overruled

Robert R. Church, negro, Lowden delegate, was the Tennessee case in which the national committee was overruled. He was ousted in favor of Chas. B. Quinn, white, instructed for Wood, when Quinn's counsel declared the Church faction had bolted the district convention.

There is probability of further battles on contested seats when the report of the credentials committee is laid before the convention. In some cases, including the Tennessee case, efforts to overrule the committee by vote of the convention were planned.

As the report does not embody any serious departure from the temporary roll or affect enough votes to make it an important object for supporters of any candidate to override the committee, however, no long struggle was expected.

REPUBLICANS TO HEAR IRISH CLAIM

CHICAGO, June 8.—Speaking of his mission to Chicago, President DeValera of the "Irish republic" said last night that the Friends of Irish Freedom had submitted a plank to the resolutions committee of the republican convention favoring recognition of the Irish republic.

"If any word of mine can add strength to this effort of our friends, it is my duty in fulfillment of my mission to be here," said he. "We earnestly plead for the assistance which, if prompt and energetic, will be decisive."

This question of recognition is distinctly an American question. The decision is yours, and yours only—yours to say whether you shall continue to recognize the government of might in Ireland, or begin now to recognize the government of right."

Mr. De Valera said that those in charge of presentation of the case to the convention resolutions committee have agreed on a resolution that will be satisfactory to them, and so informed the committee.

Plank De Valera Supports

The resolution follows:
"Mindful of the circumstances of the birth of our nation, we reassert the principle that all governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

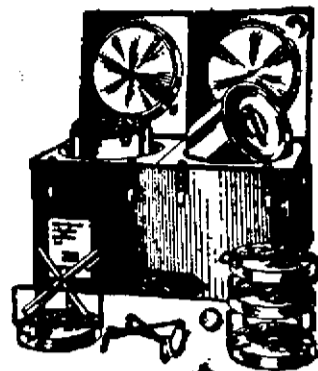

"We deny the right of strong nations to enslave the weak and to make them subject to their interests. We believe attempts to prosecute claims to such a right to be the fruitful source of wars, accordingly in the interests of world peace, and because America has always stood for justice we offer our traditional sympathy to all nations such as Ireland, rightly struggling to be free."

"We stand firmly by our right in law and will support the continuance of our established practice of recognizing recognition without intervention in all such cases and where the people of a nation, as in Ireland, have repudiated the alien governments' claim to rule them, and by a free vote of the people have set up a republic and chosen a government to which they yield willing obedience, it will be the policy of our party to accord to the elected governments of such republics and in particular the republic of Ireland, full, formal and official recognition, thus vindicating these principles for which our soldiers offered up their lives in the recent war."

To that all-important individual, the June Bride, this store offers a wealth of suggestions for every trousseau need. And speaking of gifts for the June bride, why not give something useful this time? One of the best things some people do is to give other defenceless persons, by way of showing a spirit both friendly and substantial, things that they don't need. It seems to be sort of poetic license that goes with weddings and other important occasions when Handsome Gifts are in order. We mention below just a few useful and interesting gifts.

LADY ASTOR SPEAKS AT SUFFRAGE CONGRESS

GENEVA, June 8.—In a frequently applauded speech at yesterday's session of the International Woman Suffrage Congress here, Lady Astor gave the delegates her view of how women could and would be great influences for good in the world under their civic responsibilities. She said she felt great responsibility herself, as a woman member of the oldest parliament in the world, entrusted with representing Great Britain, and she added parenthetically: "I am not quite certain that all the men do quite trust either me or my sex, as a whole."

"War," she said, "is a terrible wrong, but not necessarily the greatest wrong. I am not sure that slavery, oppression and intolerance are not even greater evils."

Discussing the League of Nations as one of the outstanding questions of the world, Lady Astor suggested:

"Let us avoid talking about the League. The ideal is fine, but unless the people and nations are just toward each other the league is utterly useless." She declared that the league merely provided machinery which would help prevent wars.

Lady Astor expressed the opinion that women had special responsibility in humanitarian measures. "I shall always be glad I made my first speech in parliament on drink," she said, "because every woman knows how much sorrow and suffering it brings into the homes."

"Woman's opportunities are great," Lady Astor continued. "We must not flatter ourselves," she declared, "that the world will ever be put right by woman as she now is, but as she is going to be."

Other speakers were Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson of Colorado and Madame Schwimmer, president of the Hungarian Woman Suffrage association.

Madame Schwimmer, who was formerly Hungarian ambassador to Switzerland, advocated women entering the diplomatic service, which she said needed truth and frankness instead of secret jealousy and intrigue.

The entire morning session was devoted to the question of whether the alliance should be continued. A program to continue it on broader lines for the benefit of women and humanity in general with the elimination of the word "suffrage" from its title was considered.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt of New York, president of the alliance, and Mrs. Charlotte Despard and Miss Chrystal Macmillan, English delegates, told the Associated Press that the delegates of many countries favored this program, only the Germans objecting. Therefore, they said, it would surely be adopted.

CADETS' ANNUAL MILITARY MASS

Further plans for the annual military mass of the O.M.I. Cadets to be held on Sunday, June 21, at the Immaculate Conception church at 3 o'clock were outlined at a largely attended meeting of the cadets last evening. Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual director, was present, and indicated point to one of the most successful affairs of his kind that the Belvedere organization has yet staged. There will be an entire battalion of cadets in khaki, three companies in naval blue and three more in West Point uniforms. The reorganized O.M.I. Cadet Pipe and Drum corps of 50 pieces will appear for the first time. After the mass a breakfast will be served at the cadet armory to all present members of the organization as well as all former members who served in the world war.

The most destructive of all insects is the grasshopper which consumes in a day ten times its weight in vegetation.

POLISH BOND DRIVE IN FULL SWING

B. F. Giermeki of the Boston committee of the Polish bond drive was the principal speaker at a mass meeting of Polish speaking people held recently at the Polish club in Coburn street, and in the course of his address he told at length of the sufferings of Poland and he also dwelt upon the resources of that country, telling his listeners that Poland is solvent and fully capable of discharging the debts she incurs. Anthony Paprowicz, vice president of the local committee, also addressed the gathering, and at the close of the meeting the local subscriptions, which amounted to close to $16,000, were raised to over $19,000. It was announced that before the close of the campaign two mass meetings will be held next Sunday, one in the assembly hall of the Polish school in High street and the other at the Polish club, and next Thursday another meeting will be held in the vicinity of Adams street, the place to be announced later.

EQUESTRIENNE OFFERS RIDING NOVELTY

Mme. Cottrell-Powell offers a real riding novelty in the Sells-Floto circus. It is essentially a statuesque posing act on horseback. Nothing prettier in the riding line has been seen in the circus in recent years, according to the Chicago newspaper reviewers. Mme. Cottrell-Powell's act is especially notable for the beauty of her horses. They are full-blooded Arabians, and show their breeding and intelligence in their work. A feature of the act is the trained cleverness of a little black pony, which stands out in silhouette against the whiteness of the larger horses utilized in the display.

The Sells-Floto management promises many novelties in riding. The Rooneys, the Hobsons and the Hodgins are especially praised for the sureness and celerity of their equestrianism, and in presenting the famous Hanneford family from the New York Hippodrome the public is afforded an opportunity to see not only the greatest riding act in the world, but also the one commanding the highest price ever paid for a strictly circus act. "Poodles" Hanneford, the riding clown, is a whole show in himself.

In addition to the riding numbers, the Codonas and Flying Nelsons offer two great aerial acts; Beria Eeson and LaBelle Victoria dance on a swaying wire; Beatrice Sweeney whirls 120 times in a minute while suspended by her teeth in the dome of the great tent and there are many other sensational displays. And there are 50 clowns, led by Marceline, the famous clown from the New York and London Hippodromes.

The big show exhibits in Lowell tomorrow.

HELD "GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT"

The Arvens Sunday school class of Calvary Baptist church, observed "Gentlemen's night" last night at the home of Richard Gumb, 62 Oakland street. The grounds were decorated with Chinese lanterns and the class colors—purple and gold—and crepe paper hats to match the colors were worn by those present. The arrangement of the decorations was in charge of Miss Emma Bowen. The general program of the evening was in charge of a committee made up of Mary Gordon, Lena Gumb, Laura Gumb and Lillian Holman. The games were under the direction of Wallace Gumb and Mary Gordon.

HI-Y CLUB BOYS CLOSE ACTIVE SEASON

The Hi-Y club of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. brought another active season to a close last evening, with a banquet held in the association gymnasium, at which Henry H. Harris, John A. Stevens and H. F. Howe, general secretary, were the principal speakers. The sociability of the event was marked and the interest manifested foretold only good things for the organization in the years ahead.

The retiring officers—President Patrick Mullane, Vice President William Thompson, Secretary Herbert Robbins and Treasurer Donald Adams—occupied chairs at the head table with the guests. A nominating committee consisting of George Stewart, Douglas Walker and Donald Adams brought in the following nominees for 1919-1920: who were unanimously elected; President, William Thompson; vice president, Herbert Robbins; secretary, Samuel Brockunier; treasurer, Willis Wright.

Each of the three speakers stressed the point of gaining knowledge in every possible way and at every turn of the road of life. "Strive to excel in whatever you do," said Mr. Stevens, and added that the educated man today has a start of 20 years in the first 25 over the uneducated man. The training of memory also was an interesting point brought out.

Henry H. Harris told the club boys that to be successful a young man must be dependable, trustworthy and accurate and that character is the greatest thing in the world.

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE

NEWPORT, R. I., June 8.—Clear skies, smooth seas and the softest of northern airs, greeted the Resolute and Vanitie as they prepared today for the fourth of the elimination races off this point. After yesterday's contest against light winds and a six-hour time limit, it was hoped that something stronger might be vouchsafed by the weather authorities.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly; and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

FOR ORGANIZED PLAY*Plan to Close Certain Streets to Protect Children at Play

Further consideration of the advisability of petitioning for the closing of certain city streets during the early evening hours to allow children opportunity for safe and organized play, featured a meeting of the special committee on parks, playgrounds and recreation at the chamber of commerce rooms late yesterday. Mrs. C. E. Heath, chairman, presided.

The matter of street closing was brought to the attention of the committee several weeks ago and since that time, Russell Fox, as chairman of a sub-committee, has investigated conditions in certain sections in an effort to present the question to the whole committee in a complete and concrete form. His report yesterday included the fact that he has conferred with a number of local women's clubs and societies and in every instance a cordial endorsement of the scheme has been forthcoming.

The committee feels that certain streets should be closed, but that recreational supervisors first must be secured. The streets recommended yesterday for closing were Middlesex Place, Charles between Gorham and Central, West Fifth, Albion and James

WANT EXPLANATION OF BOSTON CENSUS

BOSTON, June 9.—Boston chamber of commerce officials yesterday declared that there is an obvious mistake in the tabulation of Boston's population, and a meeting of the board of directors has been called for today to take action.

Pres. George R. Nutter, by direction of the officers, yesterday sent this telegram to Samuel L. Rogers, director of the census, at Washington:

"People in Boston are much surprised at census figures. According to our police list, which is basis of our voting list, the males 20 years and over increased from 1910 to 1915 nine percent, and the increase in population in same period according to state census was more than 11 percent. In the last five years the police list has increased nearly six percent, but the census figures given out show increase of population of only three-tenths of one percent."

"Heretofore the national census has been taken by our state bureau of statistics as the agent of the federal government. This year our bureau of statistics has nothing to do with the matter. Please advise us, first, whether returns which have been given out are merely tentative; and, second, if they represent the final results, what the explanation is of the very small increase in Boston's census figures?"

FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT*Cong. Flood Breaks Cane Over Lawyer's Head—$1,500,000 Will Case

MANASSAS, Va., June 9.—Congressman Flood of Virginia, and half a dozen lawyers and witnesses in the famous Porter will case engaged in a free-for-all fight yesterday in the Prince William county circuit court. Most of the combatants sustained cuts and bruises about the face.

The fight followed an assertion by John S. Barbour, counsel for proponents of the will, that affidavits offered by contestants, among whom is Mrs. Flood, were "all lies."

"No one but a hound would make such a statement," Mr. Flood shouted. Mr. Barbour advanced on the congressman and was said to have struck the first blow. Mr. Flood hit the lawyer over the head with his cane, and William P. Meredith of Washington, whose wife is chief beneficiary under the will, struck Mr. Flood.

The congressman broke his cane over Mr. Meredith's head and several others joined in the fight. When court officers finally restored order, Judge Brent lectured Mr. Barbour for his remarks, but said he would not hold him or the others for contempt of court.

The Porter will disposes of an estate valued at $1,500,000.

EX-MAYOR CURLEY RESCUES CHILD

BOSTON, June 9.—A 4-year-old South Boston girl was saved from possible serious injury yesterday by ex-Mayor James M. Curley as she started to run across the street and fell directly ahead of a horse and wagon on Broadway, near Dorchester street, South Boston.

As ex-Mayor Curley, in his automobile, turned to the left to pass the wagon, he saw the girl stumble and fall in the horse's path. Curley jammed on the emergency brake and swerved it sharply, blocking the horse's progress.

As Curley brought his machine to a stop, he jumped over the side of the car into the street and snatched the child up in his arms.

Mr. Curley's quick action was commented on by many eye-witnesses. The driver of the wagon said he did not see the child.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

While it almost seems a shame to inject any thoughts of next fall and winter into the scheme of things at this date in early summer, it is nevertheless of wide interest to know that the Lowell high school football management has begun to lay plans for next year's eleven and today announces the following splendid schedule of 10 games:

Oct. 1.—Nashua at Nashua.
9.—Concord, N. H., at Concord.
12.—Lawrence academy at Lowell.
18.—Manchester, N. H., at Lowell.
22.—Concord, Mass., at Lowell.
30.—Fitchburg at Lowell.
Nov. 6.—Woburn at Lowell.
12.—Haverhill at Haverhill.
19.—Fitchburg at Lowell.
Thanksgiving—Lawrence at Lawrence.

Next fall, as shown by the schedule, the two "big" games—Lawrence and Haverhill, will be played on foreign fields. John J. Cahill, as captain of the 1920 eleven, will have at least 12 letter men back to work with and even at this early date the chances of a bang-up, good team are exceedingly bright. J. P. Conway again will coach.

DANCING PARTY

Extensive arrangements have been made for a dancing party by the Chalfoux Baseball club. The proceeds are to go to an athletic fund from which all expenses of the various athletic teams are to be paid. The Chalfoux ball club is a member of the local Mercantile league which has just begun. The dance is to be held in the Pawtucket boat house Friday night. The committee in charge has arranged for a fine musical program which includes some oriental music. The committee includes Captain Eugene Queenan chairman; Alva Johnson, Anthony Drulin, Shirley Vinling, Frank Brunello, Arthur Cormier, Frank Curran, William Soule, Emily Moran and Harold Judge.

KILLED BY TRAIN

LAWRENCE, June 9.—Within an hour of completing his day's work as a freight brakeman on the Boston & Maine railroad, Peter D. Gilchrist of 15 Cambridge street was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon when he lost his footing on the rear ladder of a freight car, fell to the ground and was crushed to death as the wheels of several cars passed over his body.

He had been employed as a freight

LOWELL METHODIST SOCIAL UNION

Two interesting addresses, dealing with the work of the recent Methodist conference at Des Moines, Ia., were delivered by Rev. Webster H. Powell, district superintendent of Lynn, and Rev. Leopold A. Nies, pastor of Trinity church of Worcester, at a meeting last night of the Lowell Methodist Social Union in the Centralville M.E. church.

Mr. Powell, in opening his address, spoke of the vision of world-wide service that was in evidence at the Des Moines conference. He mentioned as an evidence of a broader conception of things the appointment of negroes to serve as bishops.

The speaker referred to the achievement in raising a very large sum of money in connection with the Methodist centenary at a cost of only 5 per cent of the sum raised as a remarkable business achievement.

Reference was also made to the vote of the conference to permit women to occupy pulpits. Section 250 of the church rules, which relates to card playing and dancing was also mentioned, and the speaker said that he was in favor of eliminating the section altogether and depending upon the good sense and judgment of Methodist young people to protect them from dangers which he admitted were connected with the amusements named.

The trend of the conference, the speaker asserted, was away from the use of arbitrary methods of repression and restriction, and he said that he believed that the time had come when the use of the "big stick" could be discontinued. In the vote of the conference requiring every church to have social and recreational direction, he saw a hopeful advance.

Rev. Leopold A. Nies, the second speaker, said that the Methodist church now more than ever reaches all races and nations. He mentioned the case of a Filipino, who 25 years ago was a savage but was now a leader of his delegation at the recent conference.

Previous to the meeting at which the addresses were delivered, a supper was served by the women of the Centralville and Central M.E. churches. The committees from the two churches in charge of serving the supper were: Centralville—Mrs. A. E. E. Swapp, Mrs. A. L. Hiser, Mrs. A. E. Gregory, Mrs. Fred Colburn, Mrs.

Charles Garmon, Miss Mary Read and Mrs. F. C. Whittier.

Central church—Miss Florence Caldwell, Mrs. LaPrise and Miss Julia Lewis.

During the evening officers and committee for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Harry L. Campbell; first vice president, Abel R. Brooks; second vice president, Nathaniel W. Matthews, Jr.; secretary, A. L. Hiser; treasurer, E. L. Sherwood; membership committee, Rev. D. W. Hutchinson, Rev. John Singleton, Mr. H. L. Sherwood and J. F. Fendley; program committee, Rev. Karl P. Meister, Rev. Nathaniel W. Matthews and pastors of entertaining churches.

STRAND DIAMOND RING CONTEST

The Strand diamond ring contest, which opened at this theatre some weeks ago and will be brought to a close on July 2, has developed unusual interest among the large number of movie patrons of the city. The award of a $150 diamond, secured through the Cesar Misch Co., will be given free to the patron receiving the largest number of coupons. No one, either directly or indirectly identified with the theatre, is eligible for the prize. Coupons are given with the purchase of each ticket at the box office and the one receiving the largest number of coupons will be awarded the coveted diamond ring.

General Manager Soriero is a great believer in giving bigger and better inducements during the so-called "inactive" months of the year, both in the quality of the picture programs as well as special prices, and this is one of his methods of sharing with his patrons the benefits of the theatre. He emphasizes the importance of insisting on getting your coupons when purchasing tickets and then turning in the coupons for your favorite contestant. There are already many contestants actively engaged and their followers are working hard for their success. Special arrangements will be made for the presentation on July 2.

R. F. MEYER THEATRE

Clayton the Mystic, who is appearing at the B. F. Meyer theatre this week, is in receipt of enormous quantities of mail from persons in many places who are desirous of having him answer personal questions. This condition has been brought about by the fact that he has answered the question wherever he has appeared.

The Pictures are Before You CHOOSE!

"NAP-A-MINIT"

Used by Dr. Gagnon in His Superior PORCELAIN DENTISTRY

Take a good look at these pictures—they tell the story of TWO KINDS OF DENTISTRY. The left hand picture is of a man being treated in the old harsh method employed to this day by many dentists. Note the rigid position of the patient as he sits upright, gripping the doctor's arm, hindering him in his work, and making his own pain necessarily greater. Every nerve in his body is on edge—every muscle tense—he is indeed the personification of fear and pain. THIS IS DENTISTRY AS I DO NOT DO IT.

Now turn to the picture on your right. Here you see gentleness and relaxation, a patient that feels no pain, yet is in control of every other sense. He can talk and hear and watch the doctor, unhampered, do his very best work. This is an example of DENTISTRY AS I DO PRACTICE IT.

This is what "Nap-a-Minit" has done for all my patients. "Nap-a-Minit" is a positive pain destroyer and absolutely eliminates all pain in dentistry. With its use, one may have teeth and roots extracted, nerves removed, cavities prepared and filled, crowns and bridgework inserted and every conceivable kind of dental operation performed without the slightest fear or dread because IT WILL NOT HURT.

Now that you have seen the two pictures and know the story, that they tell, it is up to you to CHOOSE if you have dental work to be done. Will you have pain and harsh treatment or will you have "Nap-a-Minit" and no pain at my office? There is little doubt about your answer and when you come here you will find the greatest service and value-giving dental offices in New England.

heard, he finds that there are many personal matters which can only be answered by letter, although many of his replies to questions made in the theatre are quite startling. He is easily the headliner of the present week's collection of acts, and his method of picking persons from his audience is at once an unusual and a fascinating feature. "Skeet" Gallagher, a former legitimate comedian and trans-Martin, who was one of the Dresden China beauties of Gus Edwards' song Revue, measure up very high among the entertainers. Their work is graceful and it is clear cut and compelling. Bensee and Baird have an unusual comedy alone. Miss Hild is one of the best comedy women on the vaudeville stage, and her work is thoroughly enjoyable. Harry Austin Bond & Co. in "Our Wife" present a novel playlet, and Howard & Ross, batologists, are introducing a novelty. Other acts are those of Rekoma, a Lowell equilibrist, and Renn & Cavanaugh, comedians.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Standing shoulders high above the mass of motion picture directors are the few men who represent the masters of the profession. Among them, Cecil B. DeMille ranks with the highest. A pioneer in the motion picture industry, Mr. DeMille brought to his task of picture producing the ideals of a true artist.

Perhaps the secret of his success is that he is a rare combination of imaginative artist and realist. He is a dramatist who sets about making his dreams come true in a perfectly natural manner. If, as in "Male and Female," a frontier island were needed for a background, Mr. DeMille would set to work constructing one. When completed, it could not be told from the existing architecture of the earth. The keynote of every DeMille production. To secure this, no expense of time, money or effort is spared.

In his latest picture, "Why Change Your Wife?" showing at the Merrimack Square theatre all this week, Mr. DeMille has taken for his theme a strikingly accurate phase of young married life. Thomas Meighan and Gloria Swanson are the leading players and the rest of the cast is excellent.

In connection with the showing of "Why Change Your Wife?" the Merrimack Square theatre management is conducting an essay contest on the theme, "Is Divorce Ever Justifiable?" Twenty-five dollars in prizes are to be distributed to the best essay on the contest left at the theatre box office any day this week.

The rest of the bill is in harmony with this big feature. It's just fascinating.

"LAGNIAPPE" GOES INTO THE DISCARD

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 7.—"Lagniappe" is down for the count and the "quartee" is no more here. They lost in a battle with the high cost of everything.

"Lagniappe" (pronounced lagnyap) was a present made by the shopkeeper with every purchase of a customer. The grocer's lagniappe might be an ounce of salt or a little vinegar; the butcher gave a bit of bologna and the vegetable peddler threw in an onion for good measure.

No one knows the origin of lagniappe, though it was a universal custom here for 200 years. Customers expected it and asked for lagniappe if the merchant forgot.

It was the grocers who first banded together to stop the steady drain on their profits produced by lagniappe.

Copper for many years had no circulation in the south. But the very poor made use of the "quartee." If they required less than 5 cents' worth of an article they purchased a quarter's worth or a quarter of a dime's worth. Thus a housewife bought 5 cents' worth of sugar, half a nickel's worth of pepper and half a nickel's worth of starch. But now the nickel itself has hard work buying even the smallest article, and so the quartee with lagniappe has gone.

Crows, when at rest in the tree-tops or when foraging in the fields, invariably have sentinels out to warn of danger.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE TOUGH SASSAFRAS

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

"Yes," Mrs. Woodchuck assured them when the sounds of scratching and thumping came from the kitchen. "It's only Wally digging the sassafras for our tea." And she turned the flame up higher under her little copper kettle on the parlor table. So Nancy and Nick and Tingaling sat down again.

"As I was saying," she went on, "Wally and I were taking a walk when—"

"Thump, thump, thump, scratch, scratch," came the sounds again.

"That must be pretty tough sassafras," remarked Tingaling, the fairy landlord. "I didn't know we had such tough sassafras in the land-of-bear-knows-where."

"Yes," said Mrs. Woodchuck. "It is tough! Wally was just saying the other day, 'We'll certainly have to get something about that sassafras to tender it up.' It's something terrible to dig."

"Well, he must be tendering it now, with a large-sized shovel," said Thump.

MRS. WOODCHUCK TURNED UP THE FLAME UNDER HER LITTLE COPPER KETTLE

aling grimly, looking suspiciously toward the kitchen. But, remembering that the Magical Mushroom was playing policeman right outside the kitchen door, he sat still, feeling pretty sure that Wally couldn't get out that way.

The fairyman was still feeling cross at Wally for putting his children out of the house, and he was determined to make him give a very good explanation.

"Perhaps he is," Mrs. Woodchuck said, answering Tingaling's last words. "It's most annoying to have such tough sassafras. Mr. Tingaling, couldn't you rent us a house next year with tender sassafras?"

Tingaling started for the kitchen, then, for the sounds had stopped and still no Wally appeared.

"Perhaps I can," Mrs. Woodchuck, he said. "Nancy and Nick, you stay here a minute until I go into the kitchen and see just how tough that sassafras is."

SUFFRAGE BEATEN BY LOUISIANA SENATE

BATON ROUGE, La., June 9.—The resolution providing for ratification of the federal suffrage amendment was defeated in the senate of the general assembly of Louisiana last night by a vote of 23 to 19.

The vote was on a motion to postpone indefinitely consideration of the resolution. This action of the senate does not mean the definite defeat of suffrage in the Louisiana legislature as a resolution exactly duplicating the one introduced in the senate is now pending in the house and if it passes will again come before the senate for final action.

DISCONTINUE SERVICE AND INFORMATION BRANCH OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT

The service and information branch of the war department will be discontinued on June 30. This is the governmental agency created in March, 1919, to help men of the home-coming army and navy re-establish themselves in civil life upon demobilization. Originally organized by Colonel Arthur Woods of New York, as the office of the assistant to the secretary of war, it was taken over in September last by Major General William G. Haan, assistant chief of staff.

Secretary Baker's first idea was to give ex-service men assistance in obtaining employment. The whole country was covered, and a force of officers traveled continuously, linking up the various agencies interested in employment work, and lending all the assistance possible from the war department. As the demand for this decreased, the service and information branch turned its attention more to the other problems of veterans, particularly the disabled.

To date 1,657,562 men have registered for employment at the governmental and welfare agencies all over the United States. Of these 1,653,544 have been placed at work. In the past 12 months 47,815 men have asked for other assistance from the representatives of the service and information branch throughout the country. These cases have covered every need of the ex-service man—vocational training or hospital treatment; compensation, insurance, unpaid $60 bonus, back pay, travel pay, missing liberty bonds, etc.

Throughout the country there have been established local committees which will now take up this work, and before General Haan's men cease their efforts there will be such a committee in each congressional district. Membership in these groups includes representatives from the American Legion, Red Cross, all welfare bodies, and officers from the war risk insurance, vocational training board, and United States public health service; as well as other individuals interested in the ex-soldier. In organizing these committees, the welfare agencies everywhere have been brought into direct contact with the representatives of the government bureau administering soldier relief, and since the welfare agencies have contact with former soldiers, the latter are thus connected up with the government representatives.

We shall soon find out whether it is possible to drop a couple of million dollars in the slot and take out the republican presidential nomination.

Who would have thought that members of the Massachusetts delegation to Chicago would have been held up and searched by prohibition agents like ordinary bootleggers—and the goods found on some of them, too?

It is not cheering news that comes from the office of the purchasing agent for the city of Lowell that not a single bid was received in response to a request recently made for proposals to supply the municipality with 6000 tons of coal. If the required fuel cannot be bought now, what are the conditions likely to be next winter?

The republican national convention may declare for enforcement of prohibition in the platform it adopts, but the Chicago sellers of "wet" goods are evidently not in any doubt as to the attitude of the delegates as individuals on the question of bone dryness. Reliable reports indicate that a large part of the convention city is an oasis of alcoholic dampness.

RECORD OF CONGRESS

During the session of congress just closed the republicans have been in control of both branches and all bills. From the opening to the closing day the leaders of the party have labored, not to enact legislation, that was sorely needed to correct economic and other ills of the country, but to produce political capital that could be used in the coming presidential and congressional campaigns.

More investigations have been ordered and conducted than ever before in the history of congress. The animating purpose of these probes has been to besmirch the record made by the executive and administrative departments of the government, while under democratic control during the four most trying years in the nation's life.

Perhaps the voters of the nation are getting ready to turn the government over to the party whose leaders have placed partisan above public welfare, who have persistently blocked efforts to enact constructive legislation, and have made a record for inefficiency and partisan narrowness that has seldom if ever been equalled. We doubt it.

PROFIT AND SERVICE

A recent public speaker in Lowell said "the coming campaign will be largely a struggle between two ideals—profit and power vs. service and sacrifice."

The republican party in the days of its youth stood for service, and its ideals of a united nation freed from slavery gripped the imaginations of the people and swept it into power. Its early ideals were long ago realized and it has had few new ones to take their places. The party in time became the tool of the Mark Hannas and Matt Quays to be used in the interests of those who bought legislatures, corrupted judges and controlled legislation for their own private and selfish ends.

No more scathing denunciations of the party and its leaders have ever been uttered than those that came from the lips of the late Theodore Roosevelt, who held office as a republican president for nearly eight years and had a more complete knowledge of the inner workings of his party and its unscrupulous leaders than anyone else could have.

The party has not changed with passing years. It is the same old party, and under the control today of the same old leaders, that once held within its ranks United States senators whose seats had been bought for them, with Standard Oil money, that sanctioned the selection of judges by other big financial interests, and that made liberal returns to contributors to its campaign funds by passing out graft in the shape of tariff legislation. It is to be the same old fight this year that it has been in the past; the forces that stand for profit and power and those that represent service and sacrifice.

A. F. OF L. REPORT

The report of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, presented at Montreal

sets forth in plain language the principles that the members of the council believe should guide the federation in its future activities. Taking the document as a whole, it offers a constructive program for the workers of the country. Some of its demands would have seemed radical and dangerous a few years ago, but of late the world has moved rapidly forward to a realization that the toilers must be given a fuller share in the direction of the industries in which they work unless a worse condition is to come into existence.

The keynote of the report, that may be called labor's platform, is "co-operation." "Adoption of the principles of voluntary effort and full co-operation," the report says, "will bring the industrial life of the nation to such a status that production will cease forever to be a problem in American life."

The setting up of voluntary conference boards, as demanded by the report, has been successfully carried out in numerous industries both in this country and abroad, and it would seem quite certain that the movement is bound to receive a wider application in the future. The worker with a knowledge of his employer's problems and the employer with a more complete understanding of the point of view of his employees are certain to work together much more harmoniously and profitably than when both are in the dark as to each other's difficulties.

It may very likely prove true that in co-operation will be found a remedy for the open warfare manifested in strikes and lockouts which have proved so costly to the actual participants and to the public in the past.

It is encouraging to read in the report the denunciation of Bolshevism and all the other brands of radicals that some have feared were gaining a foothold among the country's toilers. The pronouncement made in the Montreal document proves conclusively that as a body the organized laborers of the country are sound to the core in their patriotism and adherence to peaceful methods of bringing about the desired changes in industrial conditions of the country.

THE KEYNOTE SPEECH

Senator Lodge's keynote speech is one of his very best efforts. Considering the material on which he had to work, he made the best of the situation.

Lodge's forte has always lain in his denunciation of the opposition. In the present case, he has used all his powers of invective in scoring President Wilson, representing him as an autocrat breaking down the institutes of representative government and despite the provisions of the constitution, trying to foist upon the nation over the heads of the senators, a peace treaty and League of Nations which would link this nation with the other autocratic and imperial nations of the earth.

In the arraignment of the democratic record, Mr. Lodge evaded anything beyond passing reference to the record of the recent republican congress. Of that there was little to be said for the reason that but for the railroad bill it would have been almost a blank.

The first great issue advocated for the salvation of the nation is the overthrow of "Mr. Wilson and his dynasty, his heirs and assigns." "Unless this is accomplished the Russian descent to barbarism will be brought to our doors," says Mr. Lodge.

Oh, dear, what a dreadfully perilous position we are in if we are to credit Mr. Lodge's perfunctory oratory. The League of Nations, as framed by Wilson must be defeated, and in this connection, Mr. Lodge did not advocate the league even with the reservations of his own framing attached.

The other score to be thrown into the nation is on the Mexican question. In this respect, Lodge took his stand practically in favor of Senator Fall's report. Unless Mexican strictness out and maintains orderly government, we will go down there and chastise her. That is the republican policy as far as indicated by Lodge's keynote.

On the high cost of living, a subject of some interest to the nation, the keynote senator has not remedy, although he says everything that can be done by law to remedy the high prices should be done; and another remedy recommended is increased production, particularly on the farms; but we fail to see that the republican party can lay special claim to either for the reason that both have been repeatedly invoked by democratic officials.

He condemns government ownership of railroads which does not exist; but he assaults it as a matter of policy, a piece of supererogation on the senator's part, as nobody ever suspected the republican party of favoring government ownership. Rather did the party tend towards the opposite evil of allowing certain interests to own the government.

Lodge's speech reads well and doubtless sounded well to those who heard it; but there is little in it to offer to the country any assurance of efficient government in case the republican party should be restored to power.

THE PAGEANT

In the spectacular pageant of Lowell's history presented on the South common, the people of this city had a splendid illustration of what community service can do. That production brought together for a common purpose, pleasing and instructive to all, practically all the leading nationalities in Lowell; and judging from the vast assemblage of spectators, every feature and movement was watched with intense interest.

On the merits of the pageant, we cannot speak too highly. The conception was that of a poetical epic following the great events of our history with allegorical representations that appealed to the imagination of the spectators. It was certainly a great show and it was carried out with a precision of detail that indicated long and careful preparation. The general spectators did not hear the language used by the dramatic personae, but the dialogues and addresses were doubtless true to the historic events of which they treated. The colonial dances, the reception to President Jackson, the war scenes and the representation of the flag produced by the costumes of many hundreds of children were very unique features.

It is plain that tremendous work was given to the preparation of this pageant for the benefit of the public. The men and women who gave their time to this work free of charge deserve at least the full measure of appreciation that such labors for the good of others should bring. This, the first great effort of the Community Service, has vindicated the existence of the organization and proved its necessity as a centre from which to conduct movements for all the people. It should not only silence criticism of the community service, but cause all those who have thus far stood aloof to join the organization and help it along for the public good. Its benefits will accrue mainly to the various foreign elements of the community, but ultimately to the city in obliterating the racial barriers that now keep those elements apart and in uniting all in one homogeneous people.

The need of an organization representing the community was seen in the representative character of the pageant. No other single organization in Lowell, may perhaps not all the others combined, could produce anything so elaborate and so pleasing to all the various elements in our community. The Community Service has a platform on which all can meet on a common level in social intercourse or in the advancement of some worthy movement. The pageant was produced from patriotic motives; but if some calamity had befallen our city, how quickly could this Community club summon for relief work all the various sections of our people and thus render a service such as no other organization could attempt. From every aspect the Community Service is a necessity in our city; it may be a great factor in promoting Americanization by breaking down ethnological barriers and linking in the hands of friendship peoples who have heretofore regarded one another with distrust if not with enmity or prejudice. If by this service we can establish good will and a neighborly spirit where mutual suspicion and jealousy now exist, we shall have accomplished a great Christian work.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Ernest Sullivan, aged three years, son of Patricia Corneille Sullivan of Stephen street, was stuck by an automobile last evening near his home and received a slight injury to his foot. The automobile concerned was being operated by Frank Smith, also of Stephen street.

SEEN AND HEARD

Well, so far the sweet girl graduates have offered pretty good consolation for the sugar shortage.

That $800 appropriated for the city's Fourth of July observance looks like safe and sane propaganda.

That pageant was better than a week's poring over musty pages of history.

Begins to look as though G.O.P. means Gladly Old Party, judging from Chicago dispatches.

The old soft hat seems about 50 per cent. more shabby than ever when you have to resurrect it after having worn a shining straw for a week or so.

As far as municipal salaries and wages are concerned, the word "adjustment" has become synonymous with "revelation."

In a setting of eggs Mrs. Margaret Ward of Vernon, N. Y., placed under a hen was an unidentified egg which had been found in a field. The strange egg is now a henhawk, and the hen is mithering it.

Oh, What a Stab!
Said Mrs. Newrich—"Strange that you find it so hard to keep your help. I never have any difficulty in keeping mine."
"Ah," replied Mrs. Hanton, "but you have a great advantage over us. You naturally find it easy to humor them by treating them as equals."

Registering the Baby
A woman whose husband, a soldier, was stationed abroad, went to register her new baby. After answering all the necessary questions she put down $1. "There is no charge," said the registrar. "What?" answered the mother, and after thinking murmured: "Wait till he comes home. It has cost me a dollar every time he has registered our six children."

Slight Resemblance
One of the Texan friends of Representative Cooper met him the other day. "You smoke, don't you?" he asked. "Sometimes," said Cooper. "Take this," remarked the Texan. "This is something like a cigar." Cooper took the weed, lighted it and puffed three or four times. "Yes," he assented, "this is something like a cigar. What is it?"

'Twas Good Stuff
Sarah Simpson is a very strong-minded woman. If you don't believe it ask her husband. "No, Samuel, remember! If that man Johnson offers you anything to drink you will refuse?" Samuel sighed as he agreed to her edict. Later as they started for home, Sarah eyed her spouse with gloom in her face.

"When Mr. Johnson made that peculiar sign to you," she began, "and shortly afterward you both hurried from the room, where did you go, Samuel?" "Oh—yes, my dear! He merely asked me to step into his study to look at some old books he bought recently. You know I have a taste for books."

"Yes, Samuel, and from what I heard, your taste for books was highly gratified. You forgot to close the study door and I heard a smacking of lips and then you exclaimed: 'Ah, that's the stuff!'"

Waiting
(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)
Down the distance separating.
Somewhere there's a mother waiting.
Waiting while her life endures.
Waiting for a loving letter.
Which shall make her hurt heart better.
Is that mother yours?

Somewhere, where the postman lingers.
Arg a mother's reaching fingers.
Ever hoping to be thrilled.
Fingers which have served and blessed
And whose tender touch caressed you—
Shall they not be filled?

Somewhere, where the stars are gleaming.
There's a mother lies a dreaming
Of the home her days contain.
And her mother face grows tender
At the message you shall send her—
Is her dream in vain?

Past all watching, past all weeping.
Somewhere there's a mother sleeping
Under God's eternal blue.
And her last sigh spent in thought on
One who seemed to have forgotten—
Tell me, was it you?

TAXI MEN DISCUSS BOND QUESTION

The matter of a bond to be furnished the city by taxicabs and limousine owners of this city as proposed recently by the Lowell chamber of commerce was discussed informally at a meeting of the Lowell Limousine Owners' association, which was held last evening in the quarters of the organization in Appleton street. President J. J. Sullivan occupied the chair and, although no action was taken, all present expressed themselves as being opposed to the bond. Other matters of importance were also discussed.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A double birthday party in honor of Miss Margaret McCoy and Miss Florence Ellis of Chelmsford was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McCoy, South street, Centre village. Over 25 young people attended the festivities and all enjoyed the program thoroughly. In the course of the evening refreshments were served and victrola selections were given. Two large birthday cakes were cut and shared with the guests. The two hostesses were showered with congratulations and best wishes and were presented many pretty remembrances. Mrs. McCoy was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Charles H. Ellis. Mrs. Herbert Rose poured, while Mrs. Jennie Hale had charge of the guests.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

If the law upholds the act of an officer in commandeering the services of an officer of lower rank free of charge, just for the reason that he is superior in rank, then the bill for garage service incurred by a local man who stalled his machine on the Boston road lately, need not be paid. The man spoken of is a sergeant on the police force, and one night recently he lost his bearings, that is, the bearings in his auto gave out when about seven miles from Lowell. Luckily, he found a brother officer of lower rank, who had motored out that way to do a little farm work, and asked him to get the stalled auto going again. Since he left a row of potatoes uncovered and lost an hour's work on his farm, this officer made out a bill in garage style, which included the amount of "gas used," "expert advice," "assistant," "use of tow rope" and "loss of work on the potato patch." The sergeant claims, however, that he commandeered the services of his brother officer in his official capacity, and that he does not have to pay for such aid. So there it rests.

As a spectator the Man About Town has found food for thought and reflection in the happenings at the session just ended of the superior court held in Lowell for the purpose of granting final papers to applicants for citizenship. Probably 50 per cent. of the applicants have been of middle age or past, and nearly all of them have been residents of the United States for periods varying from 15 to 30 years or more. Very few under 30 years of age have come forward to renounce their allegiance to foreign governments. It would be interesting to know the reasons that influence men to live in this country for a good part of their lifetimes without becoming citizens, and then come to the conclusion that citizenship may be a desirable thing after all. Some of the answers given to questions propounded by the examiner do those hopeful of attaining citizenship have lent an element of humor to the proceedings. The lack of information regarding the history of this country and its institutions has in some cases been remarkable. In the mind of one interrogated applicant the single fact that Abraham Lincoln had been president during the Civil war seemed to have taken firm lodgment. About the Civil war itself he was not so certain and he placed the date and place of its beginning as in 1775 at Philadelphia. With this same applicant the discovery of America by Columbus was a moveable event and he shifted the date on which he thought it occurred about through three centuries.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the department of streets and highways believes that Lowell people are willing to pay a higher tax rate this year than last providing it is what he terms "an honest tax rate." In discussing the matter the other day, he said that the state and county taxes have increased greatly this year, and that this was merely a reflection of the increased cost of labor and materials. The city, he said, had had to meet increased expenses merely to keep up its usual amount of work, to say nothing of making advances in the way of departmental equipment. "The street department, for instance," he added, "is spending money year after year for repairs to its machinery exposed to storms all year simply because it hasn't proper accommodations for storage during the winter. There are not tools enough in the department to do the kind of work that it should do in a city of this kind. I believe that if a city is going to progress it must spend the money and if it is honestly spent, I believe that people are willing to pay."

The hundreds of pleasure cars parked in the vicinity of the South common at Monday night's pageant comprised the most elaborate automobile show ever held in the city and they all gathered without the help of an organizer and with no exhibition booths reserved. All four sides of the common area were lined with cars of every description, date and make; every available yard of roadway was taken and scores were forced to seek parking space elsewhere. This was but one of the many features of a most unusual event. Another outstanding feature was the tremendous drawing power of the pageant idea, which nobody believed had any more than taken bare root in the minds of the city's people. The mere fact that it was an excellent beginning means even larger crowds in the future and while it would be "too much of a good thing" to ask Mrs. Keyes to direct another without allowing her an extended vacation, it is seriously hoped that the interest now engendered will not be allowed to wane and that many more will follow in the wake of this splendid inauguration.

REPORT BIG DECREASE IN WHEAT PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Despite an improvement of 13,000,000 bushels in the winter crop during May and an indicated spring crop of 65,000,000 bushels greater than that of last year, the total wheat production for 1920 was estimated yesterday by the department of agriculture as only 551,000,000 bushels or 180,000,000 bushels less than the total for 1919.

From its condition on June 1, the spring crop was estimated at 227,000,000 bushels or 15,000,000 more than the five year average. A total winter wheat production of 504,000,000 bushels was forecast. This is 228,000,000 less than that of last year and 55,000,000 below the average for the five years ending in 1918.

"All told, the present outlook is considerably better than it could reasonably have been hoped for earlier," said the department's announcement.

"While almost a fifth less than the great crop of last year, it is only a 20th less than the average crop for the five years, 1914-1918, which included the three largest crops in our history, excepting last year's crop."

Simultaneously with the department's announcement of its production forecast, a committee representing farm organizations presented a memorial at the White House calling President Wilson's attention to what was described as the "critical situation existing on the farm and the resulting menace to the nation's food supply."

Production of various crops forecast in today's monthly report from their June 1 condition follows:
Winter wheat, 504,000,000 bushels.
Spring wheat, 227,000,000 bushels.
Oats, 1,315,000,000 bushels.
Barley, 145,000,000 bushels.
Rye, 58,000,000 bushels.
Hay, 112,000,000 tons.
Apples, 199,000,000 bushels.
Peaches, 45,000,000 bushels.

The spring wheat area this year is 19,437,500 acres, or 55.6 per cent of last year's area of 34,900,000 acres, and the spring wheat yield is 26.8 bushels per acre, or 88.1 per cent of a yield of 30.2 bushels per acre in 1919.

normal, compared with 31.3 a year ago. Condition of winter wheat is 75.3 per cent of a normal, compared with 94.6 a year ago and 79.1 a month ago. The area planted to oats this year is 41,032,800 acres, or 96.6 per cent of last year's. The area planted to barley is 7,137,000 acres, or 100.2 per cent of last year's. Condition of other crops: Oats, 87.3 per cent of a normal; barley, 67.6; rye, 64.4; hay, 55.9; pastures, 55.3; apples, 73.3; peaches, 61.8.

The natives of the Andaman Islands are of average 3 feet, 11 inches in height and year's condition, 88.1 per cent of a yield of 30.2 bushels per acre in 1919.

Helps Husband to Escape Through Train Window

WOODLAND, Cal., June 7.—Although she had secured her husband's arrest for murder and bigamy, Mrs. Perry Steele of this city found her love for him so strong she could not bear to see him sent to jail.

After insisting on accompanying him to Williamsburg, Ky., to answer for the killing of Alonso Bladon in 1904, she helped her husband in breaking his bonds and in escaping from the window of a moving train.

Some weeks ago Steele, who is 40, while his wife is still under 20, was arrested on a battery charge preferred by his wife. Following his arrest she told officials that Steele was wanted on a murder charge in Kentucky and that he was also a bigamist and embezzler. Steele later confessed.

Although the girl-wife's tale of the cruelty she had endured was pitiable, she could not force herself to stay away from Steele's cell. Her plea to accompany him was granted, resulting in Steele's escape. Police officials say they had planned to meet later at a designated place.

CARUSO ROBBED OF HALF MILLION IN JEWELS

EASTHAMPTON, N. Y., June 9.—The country home of Enrico Caruso, the tenor, was robbed yesterday afternoon and jewels, valued at $500,000 were stolen, the police reported last night. The stolen jewels included a diamond necklace valued at $75,000.

The robbery was discovered by Mrs. Caruso when she returned to her home at 10:30 o'clock last night and found the house ransacked. In addition to the diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, valued at between $15,000 and $100,000, the bridal gift of Mr. Caruso, also was taken. A partial list of the stolen jewels, made public by the police, includes eight diamond rings, a pair of diamond earrings, two diamond hairpins, one flexible diamond bracelet, and two gold watches.

Caruso has been the victim of several other robberies. His villa near Florence, Italy, has been ransacked three times, and on the last occasion in 1912 several valuable art relics were stolen. A collection of stamps, valued high by experts, was taken from trunks which the opera singer had sent from New York to Naples in 1916. Thirty barrels of wine and an automobile owned by Caruso were "commandeered" from his Italian villa by a "work committee" during disorders around Florence last July.

REPORT ON SURVEY OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

Chairman Thomas B. Delaney was instructed by the school committee at a meeting held late yesterday afternoon to confer with members of the municipal council in regard to making suitable repairs and additions to the present vocational school so that it may be in proper condition for occupancy next September.

The committee had previously asked the city government to take over one of the Bigelow-Hartford mills in Market street to be used as a vocational school until the new high school should be completed, but owing to the financial condition of the city this project was abandoned.

Mr. Delaney was also instructed to confer with Commissioner George E. Marchand of the public property department relative to the repair of various school buildings throughout the city as recommended in a survey recently conducted by Henry L. Williams, business agent of the department.

In a report of the survey submitted to the committee at yesterday's meeting, Mr. Williams described in detail conditions in various school buildings and made recommendations for their improvement. In part, his report was as follows:

"It has been called to the attention of the school committee at different times the existence in several of our schools of the so-called dry closets. I am told that the committee has taken action on at least one occasion, and that the board of health has recommended on several occasions that these should be done away with as they are considered not only unsanitary, but a menace to the health of the children who are obliged to attend school in the buildings where these are installed. The school buildings having this system are as follows: Cabot street, Billings street, Lexington avenue, Moody

Just say Hires

Sycamore street, Cross street, Carter street and Pine street schools.

"The first named, the Cabot street school, has been giving trouble for some time, and the odors in the basement and through the building at times are very, very bad. This, in my opinion, is one of the first places that should be attended to, removing the present dry closets and installing up to date sanitary equipment. This building is piped and equipped with gas.

"The conditions in the Billings street school are very similar to those of the Cabot street school. These closets should be removed at once, and new sanitary equipment installed. This building is equipped in the basement and teachers' room for gas, but has no other fixtures in the building.

"The Lexington avenue, Moody and Sycamore street schools operate fairly well during the period that the furnaces and stack fires are operated. When the weather gets the least warm and moist we have the same trouble with these schools as the others in the way of odors, etc. The Lexington avenue school is equipped with gas in the corridors, basement and two class rooms. The Sycamore street school, with the exception of one kerosene lantern, has no artificial lights whatsoever.

"The conditions at the Carter street school are such as to demand the removing of the dry closets at once. The grades are broken and it is almost impossible for the janitor to operate the system under the existing conditions owing to broken grades and general wreckage. Both toilet rooms at this school are very dark. There are gas lights in the basement and girls' toilet room, and the building is piped for gas as far as the ceilings of the school rooms."

Mr. Williams recommended that some action be taken to remedy conditions in those six schools as well as in the Cross street and Pine street schools before the opening of the fall term in September. The rest of his report, a lengthy one, dealt with conditions in the high school and various other grammar and primary schools in all parts of the city, some of which found in excellent condition as far as sanitary conveniences and lighting are concerned and others in which improvements should be made.

On motion of Dr. Rooney it was voted that Miss Frances M. O'Neill and Miss Mary B. Harrigan be elected regular teachers in the high school. Miss Charlotte Murkland, principal of the Bartlett school, was given permission to visit Springfield schools for observation purposes.

Anaemia

Four years ago, before I was married, RED PILLS had built me up and saved me from Anemia. Some time ago, I again felt myself getting weak, besides suffering from headaches, dizziness, etc. My first thought was of RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and once more they proved invaluable to me, for they toned up my system and relieved me of the pains which I had been complaining of.

POOR TIRED FEET

Your success may depend upon heeding their warning

TIED feet are Nature's danger signal. They indicate that you are putting an unnatural strain on the delicately adjusted arches, which were designed to support your weight and absorb the jars of walking.

Nature never intended man to walk all day on hard modern floors and pavements. On the soft dirt paths of a generation ago, the natural arch in the human foot could function perfectly. But today, when floors, streets and sidewalks are hard and unyielding, Nature's provision is insufficient.

These conditions are a serious menace to health and efficiency. The records of the Hospital for Crippled in New York show that in the year 1890 (before the wide adoption of stony streets) only 2.6 per cent of the patients suffered from arch trouble. In 1906, the percentage had risen to 18.3 per cent, and today it is well over 30 per cent.

If you are a person of average activity, you take 8,000 steps a day. And every step with hard leather heels or "dead" rubber heels on still harder pavements is like a hammer blow to your whole nervous system. 8,000 shocks every day—that's why so many times you go home exhausted—so tired that a night's sleep cannot replenish your energy. Fatigue slows down your pace from day to day—inevitably you fall behind in the race for success.

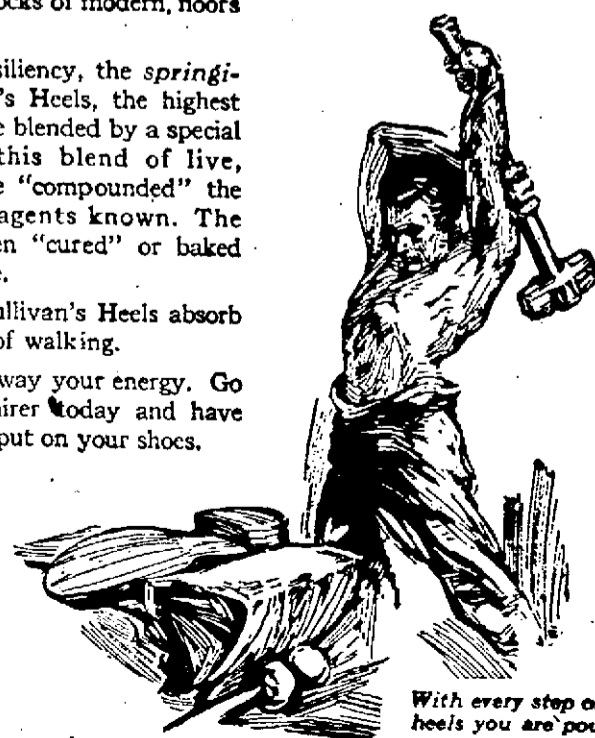

How to save your health and energy

Men and women everywhere are meeting these changed conditions. They are turning to O'Sullivan's Heels as the best way to preserve their energy—to cushion their feet against the shocks of modern floors and pavements.

To secure the resiliency, the springiness of O'Sullivan's Heels, the highest grades of rubber are blended by a special formula. With this blend of live, springy rubber are "compounded" the best toughening agents known. The "compound" is then "cured" or baked under high pressure.

This is why O'Sullivan's Heels absorb the jolts and jars of walking.

Stop pounding away your energy. Go to your shoe repairer today and have O'Sullivan's Heels put on your shoes.

With every step on hard heels you are pounding away your energy

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 8.—A firm underlying the opening of today's stock market, continued under moderate pressure as the result of the reduction in the Chicago steel, equipment, motors and oil secured variable gains.
Crude oil fell 1/2 point, while with gains of from 1/4 to 1/2 points for American Car, Baldwin Locomotive,
Chandler Motor, Royal Dutch and
Middle States Oil. Shipbuilding, utilities and miscellaneous specialties made fractional advances.

Selling of investment rails became more general before the end of the first hour. The market was evidently proceeding on the theory that either high transportation might be forced to curtail dividend payments, or preferred extended yesterday's decline by 2 to 3 points. Norfolk and Western also lost 1/2 point to almost 2 points.
For American Car, Baldwin Locomotive,
Chandler Motor, Royal Dutch and
Middle States Oil. Shipbuilding, utilities and miscellaneous specialties made fractional advances.

Pressure against rails relaxed at midday, when trading fell to nominal proportions.
Several of the active motor, food and textile shares advanced.
General Motors, closing 3 points, the money market followed yesterday's firmer course, call loans rising to 3 per cent despite the fact that the Federal Reserve bank had lowered its policy rate to 2 1/2 per cent.
Petroleum, Bethlehem Steel and American Woolen, roused the list from its apathy in the later dealings. The close was fairly firm.

MAKE U.S. SAFE PLACE TO SHOP

Atty. Lee Talks on "What Shall America do to Hold Her World Trade?"

Above All "We Should Strive to be Truthful in Our Description of Product"

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 5.—"We should strive to make America known as a safe place in which to shop," declared Richard H. Lee of New York, special counsel of the Associated Advertising Clubs, in discussing "What shall America do to hold her world trade," at the 16th annual convention of the association here.

"We should meet foreign conditions as far as possible," he said, "and make no unnecessary change in their present method of conducting their business. Above all, we should strive to be truthful in our description of the product so that there may be no disappointment upon its arrival."

"Through the medium of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World foreign nations have come to know America as the land of truth-in-advertising. Very shortly better business bureaus will be established in South America, Australia and Great Britain. Through these bureaus we may keep an accurate check on the conduct of American merchants and, when that conduct is not in keeping with the work which American business is supporting in this country, we shall bring the matter to the attention of the American public that they may mark the man, who, through his misconduct, is destroying the good name of America and the opportunity of our merchants in the foreign field."

Mr. Lee described specific instances in which misleading or fraudulent advertising had been stopped overseas.

Mr. Frederick Speaks

Dealing with advertising from a woman's point of view, Mrs. Christine Frederick of New York city, suggested a campaign to advertise advertising to the consumers and she quoted statistics to show that most of these consumers are women.

"Women have universally responded to advertising," said Mrs. Frederick. "but they are as yet unconscious or uninformed as a class regarding the economic function of advertising. You, who are public experts, have never yet let the light of publicity glare on your own acts."

Mrs. Frederick suggested the preparation of an unacademic booklet informing the consumer of the economic advantages of the advertised product with charts showing that advertising reduces living costs and lectures to create good will for advertising on the part of the public.

Good Mad on Pretty Model

"There is need of a woman's viewpoint in the actual handling of advertising copy of many products used in the home," continued Mrs. Frederick. "The plain woman consumer wants real facts and common sense and you must not antagonize her psychology. Do not show me pictures of women painting pantry shelves attired in evening gowns or using a washing machine in a reception dress. You have the wrong feminine psychology when you show a picture of the goods being used by a prettier woman than I am. 'Like the cats we are, we say to ourselves, that if this impossible French doll were to tuck up her clothes and actually use the device upon which she is leaning, she would lose her frozen smile. You advertisers have gone mad on the pretty girl model, the artificial, manufactured manikins. I make a plea for the genuine homely human model who looks more like the woman who really buys your goods.'"

"No Tramping," by Evelyn Gray Whiting, is the play to be presented in Colonial hall Friday evening of this week by the Girls' Community club. A dress rehearsal last evening put on the finishing touches to a performance which will be the best theatrical effort ever made by the girls of the club and as a great deal of interest in the production has been shown a capacity audience is expected. As a feature Dora and Marie Dewire will appear in fancy dances.

The monthly meeting of the Fletcher class was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Martha Barrow, 1811 Middlesex street. The business proceedings, conducted by Mrs. Emma Christian, the president, dealt mainly with plans for the future. Mrs. John Butcher, as treasurer, reported a balance of $21 in the treasury and a sum of $38 given to the church building fund in the past year. After the business Miss Adelaide Noyes read several selections and Miss Grace Bulcher played the piano. Mrs. Butcher, Miss Anna Leach, and Miss Elizabeth Cunningham assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

A number of friends of the commercial department of the United States Customs company surprised Miss Catherine Monahan of North Billerica last evening in the Chinese restaurant in Merrimack street and tendered her a silver shower and supper. The affair was in honor of her coming marriage with Thomas Cryan of this city and was made very entertaining with a varied program. For the 20 or more friends present Miss Margaret Lihane presented her with a chest of community silver, and Miss Monahan replied in fitting language. After the supper the following entertained: Miss Anna Lowrey, Miss Elvira Dahlstrom, Miss Alice Tweed, Miss Mary Flanagan and Miss Elizabeth Gills. Miss Margaret Lihane, Mrs. Mary Sharkey and Miss Frances Kilvan were in charge.

FUNERALS

LYNN—The funeral services of Miss Lillian J. Lynn were held at her home, 5 Durant street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Chauncey J. Hawkins, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational church, and Rev. Arthur W. Shaw, assistant pastor of St. Anne's Episcopal church, officiated. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Burial will be in the family lot in Lynnwood Centre cemetery, Lynnwoodville, Vt. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock Rev. Joseph Curtin celebrated a funeral high mass. The church choir sang the Gregorian chant, solos being sung by Miss Alice Murphy and Mr. Edward F. Shattery Jr. Mr. M. Johnson was the organist. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Joseph Curtin read the burial service. The bearers were Messrs John Kennedy, John Mahoney, John Lyons, Edward Fene, Joseph Mahoney and Joseph Clark. There were many beautiful floral tributes placed on the grave. The funeral was in charge of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy's Sons.

50 SEAMEN MISSING

Explosion Wrecks Steamer at Kobe, Japan—City Rocked

—U. S. Ship Damaged

KOBE, Japan, June 8. (By Associated Press)—Fifty Japanese seamen are missing and shipping in this harbor has been seriously damaged by an explosion of gasoline on the steamer Kikaku Maru today. The explosion shook the city like an earthquake.

The Kikaku Maru was destroyed and the fire spread to a score of gasoline-laden junks, which drifted blazing out to sea, their crews shouting for help.

Several large steamers were in port, including the Siberia Maru and the Tenyo Maru which steamed out of the harbor in time to evade the flames. The American steamer Wytheville, which is here after a voyage from New York had one mast burned.

One million gallons of gasoline originally shipped from America to Vladivostok for the Kolchak government has been returned here.

GAMING MACHINES TAKEN BY POLICE

Inspectors Cooney, Moore, Clark and Winn empowered by a search warrant, visited the home of H. C. Locke on Payne street last night and seized 16 gaming machines. The police say that Locke is the agent for the machines in this section and has acted as distributor for Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill. Each machine is valued in the vicinity of $50. They are made similar to the ball game machines which are known to all, but each of the balls is wrapped in iron inside of which there is a number. When one of the containers is full there are about 1000 balls, but out of that number there are only five or six prize numbers. The inspectors also got similar machines in a lunch car at Moody street, and on Chelmsford street they seized three gaming machines and a punch board, the property of Joseph Miller. The inspectors have clues as to the whereabouts of such machines which are working throughout the city and have laid plans for further cleanups.

FUNERAL NOTICES

Upon their return, the next lot will leave the station for two weeks on June 16, to return on June 30. Those scheduled to leave on the 18th are Officers Garrity, J. R. McNally, J. H. Donovan, O'Connell, Flanagan, McCann, Clancy and Ealy.

NOTICE

I wish to announce that I am again able to personally attend to my business after being confined for the past month at the Lowell General Hospital.

UNDERTAKER GEORGE W. HEALEY

FATHER OF KIDNAPPED BABY VERY ILL

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 9.—George H. Coughlin, father of 13-months-old Blakeley Coughlin, who was kidnapped last Wednesday, collapsed yesterday and physicians said last night his condition was serious. Mrs. Coughlin also is under the care of physicians, though not confined to bed.

More than 30 letters demanding ransom for the return of the baby have been received by the Coughlins. All but three of them, it was said last night, have been eliminated as fakes, and of these three, Major Charles T. Larzelere, attorney for the family, said it was hard to determine which, if any, is bona fide.

"It is reasonably certain," said Major Larzelere, "that one of the letters was written by the kidnapers following the insertion in the newspapers that we were willing to pay $5000 ransom and guarantee the abductors immunity if Blakeley were returned unharmed. The kidnapers have not complied with our demand for proof. They have sent neither the highgrown worn by Blakeley nor a photograph of him. Today we decided to modify the requirements by accepting a film rather than a developed print."

"We are concerned only with the return of the baby. If the kidnapers get in touch with us, we give our word of honor that neither the police nor the newspapers will be advised. The arrest of the abductors means nothing to us."

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William M. Thomson and Miss E. Minnie Tucker were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tucker, 36 Orleans street, the officiating clergyman being Rev. James M. Craig. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel Tucker. After a honeymoon trip through Canada the couple will make their home at 54 Orleans street.

BRUNELLE-KNOWLES

Mr. Lucien R. Brunelle and Miss Grace A. Knowles were married yesterday afternoon at St. Columba's rectory, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. P. J. Hally. The bride was attired in white crepe de chine with lace trimmings; she wore a bridal veil caught up with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Marietta Brunelle, who wore pink organdie with picture hat to match and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. James M. Knowles of New York, a brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride, 11 Fourth avenue. After a brief wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Brunelle will make their home at 335 Moody st.

NOVAL-AYOTTE

The marriage of Mr. John Noval and Miss Melinda Ayotte took place yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I. The bride wore white georgette and satin and carried bridal roses. She was given away by her father, Mr. J. Ayotte, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Paul Noval. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents, 419 Moody street and in the evening a reception was held at the same address. Mr. and Mrs. Noval will make their home at 445 Moody st.

TEAGUE-GRIFFITHS

Mr. Francis Teague and Miss Blanche S. Griffiths were married yesterday at the home of the bride, 219 Gates street by Rev. J. M. Craig. Mrs. George McIntyre acted as matron at the ceremony. The bride wore white georgette crepe with pearl trimmings and carried lilies of the valley and orchids. The matron was attired in blue georgette and carried pink sweet peas. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl and amethyst pin, while the bride's favor to the matron was a gold bar set with pearls. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held, followed by a wedding dinner and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York and upon their return they will make their home at 12 Gates street.

COLLINS-CRAIG

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place this morning at the Immaculate Conception rectory, when Mr. Wallace R. Collins, a world war veteran of Lynn, and Miss Margaret V. Craig, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Craig of 59 Porter street, this city, and a popular young lady, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a high nuptial mass celebrated in the private chapel of the rectory at 8 o'clock by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by Mr. William Gookin, Mr. James King and Miss Florence McManus. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played at the organ by Miss Minnie Davey. The bride was handsomely attired in white crepe georgette and satin with pearl embroidery; she wore a veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Ella Mullen, a niece of the bride, who wore flesh crepe georgette with picture hat to match and carried Killarney roses. The best man was Mr. George McKenney of Somerville, an overseas companion of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of gold beads, while the bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a string of pearl beads. The groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. At the close of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, where a wedding breakfast was served, followed by a brief reception. Mr. and Mrs. Collins left later in the day on an extended wedding trip through the state of Maine, and after July 1 they will be at home to their friends in Lynn.

ESTABLISH GREEK CONSULATE HERE

The necessary papers for the establishment of a Greek consulate in this city have been sent to the Greek government at Athens, Greece, and it is expected within a short time Leonidas Matlis, the Greek consul at Boston, will open permanent quarters in this city, where he will devote most of his time his business in the Hub to be looked after by his assistant.

This is the first step that is being taken by the local community in an endeavor to have the community recognized, for it is considered one of the largest in the country. The next move will be to have a bishop of the Greek church locate in Lowell and it is believed by many that it will be but a short time before a primate of the church is sent here, providing the colony keeps on progressing as it has for the past few years.

The local Greek population, according to officers of the community, is over 15,000 or three times larger than that of Boston. Several years ago Lowell had what was known then as a vice consul in the person of Michael Iatros. Later George Cousoulos filled the position, but about nine years ago the vice consulate in this city was abolished and all matters having to do with Greek affairs had to be brought to the attention of the consul in Boston. According to present arrangements the Greek consul at Boston, Mr. Matlis, will open an office in this city as soon as he receives his credentials from Athens and this office will be a sort of clearing house for all Greek communities in the Merrimack valley. There are large Greek communities in Lawrence, Manchester and other places north of Boston and under present arrangements these people have to transact all their business with the consul at Boston. It is felt that Lowell would be the real centre for a consulate and hence the movement started in this city a short time ago to have Mr. Matlis establish permanent quarters here.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has accepted the resignation of Abel R. Campbell as a member of the street railway home rule committee and will appoint a successor within a few days, he said today. He has asked Thomas Lees, manager of the railway company for the Lowell district, to recommend several men for the position and a choice will be made from the group.

CHIMNEY FIRE

A chimney fire in Lenton court off Charles street shortly after 8.30 o'clock last evening, was responsible for an alarm from box 327. No damage.

Father John's Medicine Has Been Used in This Family More Than 20 Years

Doctor Recommended it When Oldest Boy Had Pneumonia as a Child—Same Boy Went Through the War With U. S. Marines. All the Family Depend on Father John's Medicine for Health and Strength

The father of this splendid family, Joseph A. Martin, of Columbus, Ohio, in a recent letter says: "I have been using Father John's Medicine in my family for over twenty years. I first came to use it after my oldest son had pneumonia at the age of three years, and the doctor recommended it to build up his system and it did all it claimed to do as the same boy enlisted in the U. S. Marines and went through the late war. He just got back from 'Over There' and that shows he is in pretty good health. We have a bottle of Father John's Medicine in the house all of the time and would not be without it, as I think it is the best medicine for coughs and colds we ever used. I have recommended Father John's Medicine to hundreds of people and the same people always thank me because it has always done good. (Signed) Joseph A. Martin, Station E, R. R. No. 8, Box 161, Columbus, Ohio.

You can be sure of the value of Father John's Medicine as a family medicine because you know that it is guaranteed free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. Thousands of families keep it in the house constantly because they know it is all pure and wholesome nourishment. The safe family medicine for colds, coughs and as a tonic and body-builder.—Adv.

COAST ARTILLERY CORPS VACANCIES

There are vacancies for 50 men in the Flash, Sound and Ground ranging sections of the Coast Artillery corps at Camp Eustis, Va. Men enlisting for this section will be given the opportunity to work elsewhere during maneuvers and firing of big guns. Men who desire to qualify for commissions or as master gunners and men who have received a fundamental training in scientific subjects are especially desired. But on the other hand, men who join this service have an excellent chance to learn mathematics and science. Instruction is to be given in the following subjects: map reading, surveying, drafting, analysis of aerial photographs, motor mechanics, telephony, radio telephony, line work, care and operation of special optical and electrical equipment. Information for this interesting function of the C.A.C. will be furnished upon request by the commanding officer of the Flash, Sound and Ground ranging section, Camp Eustis, Va., or by the local recruiting officer.

FELL ON SIDEWALK

Thomas Nasticola, a resident of Boston, fell on the sidewalk in front of the Saco-Lowell shops in Dutton street this forenoon and received a bad cut on the hand. The ambulance removed him to St. John's hospital.
